

CHART 16

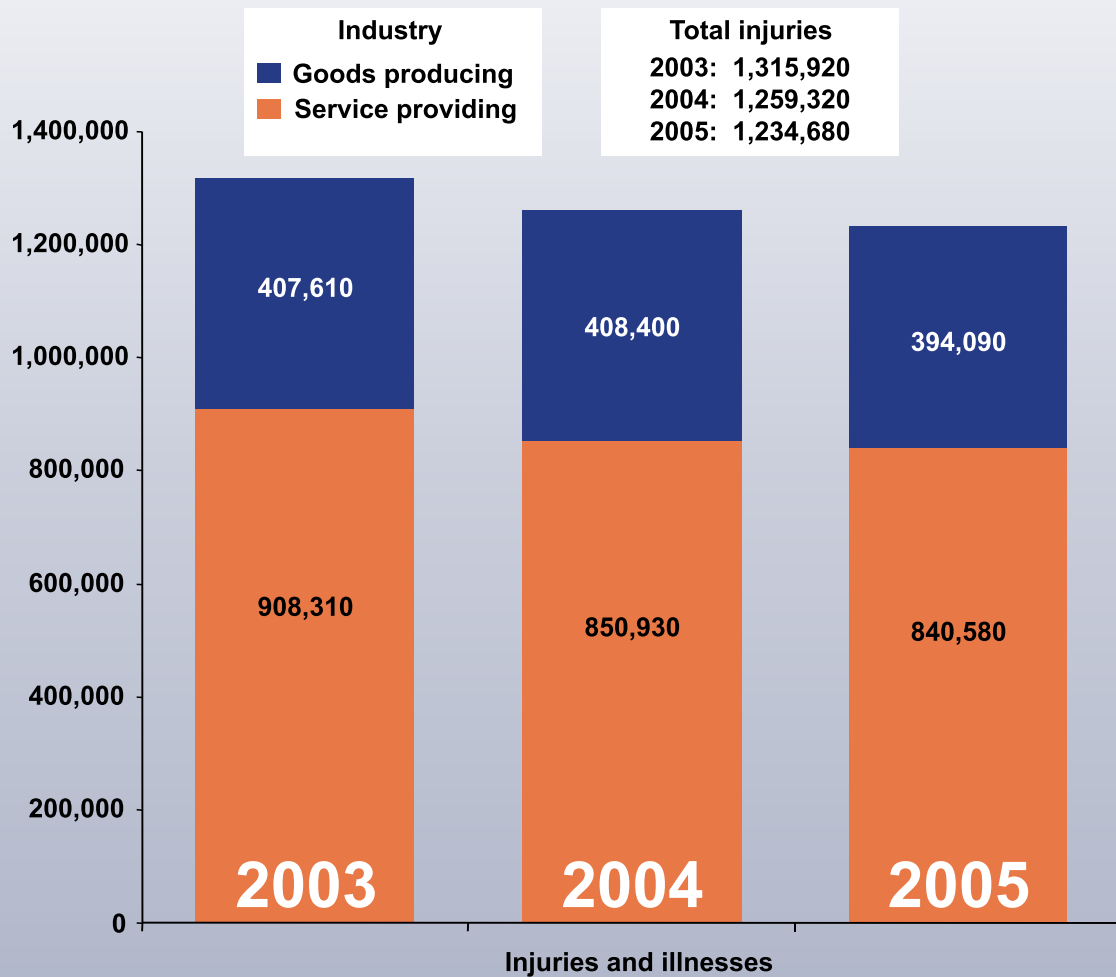

In 2005, there were 1,234,680 injuries and illnesses with days away from work, roughly the same as in 2004.

There was a decline of 3.5 percent in cases in goods-producing industries. There was no significant change in the number of cases in service-producing industries.

Injuries and illnesses with days away from work represented about 29 percent of total recordable cases in 2005.

Number of injuries and illnesses with days away from work, 2003–05

Source: U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, U.S. Department of Labor, November, 2006