FEDERAL DISABILITY INSURANCE TRUST FUND—Continued

The President's Budget includes a legislative proposal to establish a mandatory system for collecting data on pension income from non-covered State and local employment. The proposal would eliminate the current self-reporting burden on individuals and will improve payment accuracy.

This schedule reflects the effects of a program integrity allocation adjustment. More information on the allocation adjustment is included in the narrative in the Limitation on Administrative Expenses account.

The Limitation on Administrative Expenses account provides resources for the SSA to administer the OASI and DI programs, the SSI program, the Special Benefits for Certain World War II Veterans program, and certain health insurance (including prescription drug) functions for the aged and disabled.

The request for additional funding for continuing disability reviews builds on SSA's success in reducing program costs by ensuring that only individuals still too disabled to work continue to receive benefits. Continuing disability reviews are a proven investment, yielding $10 in lifetime program savings for every $1 spent. The additional funding requested also provides resources to increase the number of redeterminations of eligibility processed under title XVI of the Social Security Act. Redeterminations are also a proven investment, by ensuring that SSI recipients are receiving the correct benefit amount based on non-medical factors of eligibility. An estimate based on the 2010 request is that redeterminations processed above the base level reflects a return on investment of $7 in program savings over ten years for each $1 of additional funding spent, including savings accruing to Medicaid. The language for the additional funding permits that up to $34 million may be spent on initiatives to improve the asset verification process, provided that these initiatives are as cost-effective as SSI redeterminations. For example, the Access to Financial Institutions initiative helps SSA to identify individuals who have financial accounts exceeding the Supplemental Security Income resource limits. If there are no initiatives that meet the cost-effectiveness criteria, the funding will be used for additional continuing disability reviews and redeterminations.

Full funding of these cost increases and new enforcement investments is important. The Administration proposes to fund them as contingent appropriations. To ensure full funding of continuing disability reviews and redeterminations, the Administration proposes to employ a budget enforcement mechanism that allows for an adjustment by the Budget Committees to the section 302(a) allocation to the Appropriations Committees found in the concurrent resolution on the budget. To ensure full funding of the cost increases, this adjustment would be permissible only if the base level for continuing disability reviews and redeterminations was funded at $273 million and the use of the funds was clearly restricted to the specified purpose. The maximum allowable adjustment to the 302(a) allocation would be $485 million for 2010. See additional discussion on page 40-41 of the budget document A New Era of Responsibility.
