The Battles of Saratoga

Read the following passage about the Battles of Saratoga. Use the information in the reading to answer the questions below.

The first day of fighting, September 19th, 1777, was technically a British victory. They held the ground (stayed), and the Americans had retreated behind their own lines.

Two and a half weeks of relative quiet followed. During that time, the British forces grew weaker. Starting out with about 7500 men On September 19th, their numbers would fall to about 6700 by October 6th. They ran short on food, and the days were getting cooler. The soldiers had to do all their own heavy work in camp, including building protective walls and earthworks (long piles of dirt).

The American forces grew stronger, from about 8500 on September 19th to about 13,000 on October 6th. Militia soldiers entering camp helped by doing much of the heavy work, leaving the continental (regular) soldiers less tired. The Americans also had more supplies, but not without work. Citizens of the city of Albany melted the lead from their windows (used to hold the glass in place) so the troops could make musket balls. Farmers' animals and crops were taken by the American army –sometimes paid for, but not always.

Their many advantages resulted in the Americans winning the second day of fighting, on October 7th, 1777, and to the British surrender, ten days later, on October 17th, 1777. That American victory brought France in the war on the side of the United States and gave the Americans needed supplies, more soldiers, and foreign support. That support helped guarantee United States independence.

1. List three reasons why the delay between the two days of fighting bad for the British?

2. How did the delay help the Americans? Give three reasons. _____
