Free Mushroom ID Class for Beginners October 27 – 9:30-Noon at Salem BLM

SALEM—Bureau of Land Management (BLM) Botanist Ron Exeter will be teaching a mushroom identification class for beginners on Friday, October 27 from 9:30 to Noon at BLM's Salem District Office.

The class will focus on the BLM rules and regulations of mushroom hunting, will review literature and/or books available and will offer a short lecture on the skills needed to identify mushrooms. Participants are encouraged to bring specimens to share with the entire group. The doors will open at 9 am for those wishing to display mushrooms. The lecture will start at 9:30. The cost of the class is free. For further information contact Ron Exeter at 503-315-5963 or by email at Ron_Exeter@or.blm.gov.
