Capt. Hartwell H. T. Shipp
Company C; 5th Tenn Cav.
Army of the Cumberland

Act 1
Co C

Mustered 9-25-1862

Nov. 5th, 1862 5 companies of the 5th Tenn. Cal. fought ~~with~~ Brig. Gen. Nathan B. Forrest forces on the Franklin Pike.

Dec. 26, 1862 through Jan. 5, 1863 Battle of Murfreesboro or Stones River. The regiment in reserve Calvary under Maj. Gen. David S. Stanley. As part of his force, it took part in the advance of the right wing under Maj. Gen. M. D. McCook against Hardee's Corp on the Nolensville Pk. near Triune on 12-27; was at Wilkinsons crossroads on the 29th; at overall creek on the 31st where it repulsed an attack by Maj. Gen. Joseph Wheeler's Calvary and was engaged again at Lytle's creek on the Manchester Pike on 1-5-1863. Reported 15 casualties during this campaign.

Jan 10, 1863 may have been in the skirmish with confederate forces under Gen. VanDorn at Franklin.

April 3, 1863 Murphy's Calvary, part of the 5th regiment was reported at Carthage and on 4-21 the 5th was reported at McMinneville.

*June 27-1863 a portion of the regiment under Lt. Col Galbraith was engaged at Guy's Gap in Shebyville operating with Col Robert H.G. Mintip 1st Brigade Brig. Gen. George Stokes 2nd Calvary Division. July 10, this part of the regiment was at Fayetteville. The same portion of the regiment was stationed at Shebyville for some time. August 2, 1863 they were still there.

October 12, 1863 Galbraith's calvary was still reported at Shebyville.

November 10, 1863 5th Tenn. Calvary was ordered by Maj. Gen. George H. Thomas "To proceed to Nashville without delay, to reorganize and complete its muster." It remained in Nashville until 1-24-1864 when Col Stokes with his command was ordered to Sparta to destroy the guerrillas who infested that section of the country.

Jan 10-1864 General Thomas recommended a separation of the regiment between Stokes and Galbraith making two regiments.

January 30, 1864 Maj. Gen. Lovell H. Rousseau, at Nashville reported the 5th calvary under Stokes and others were neither well drilled disciplined or equipped. He suggested they be reorganized. At this time Galbraith's Battalion was at Nashville. The regiment was not separated as recommended.

February 1, 1864 Col Stokes moved to Sparta. He was joined by Cpts. Blackburn, Waters and Brandon. On February 18th with companies A,B,G, I,K, and L he fought at the battle at Sparta and another on Feb 22 at Calfkiller Creek.

February 24, 1864 Stokes was joined by portions of Companies C,F,and H, most of these companies still being at Nashville with no horses. For the first time in many months all the companies were represented at one place, except the two Alabama Companies and Co. M during the months of Feb. and March, Stokes reported engagements around Sparta, Calfkiller, Beersheba, and scoured Overton, Putnam and Jackson Counties for guerrillas. (Grandpa might have been absent during this time)

April 2, 1864- The Calvary Corps was reorganized. Col Stokes was given command of the 5th Tenn. Calvary at Carthage and the 5th Tenn. Calvary under Maj. William J. Clift, was placed in the 2nd brigade. Brigadier Gen. Alvan C. Gillem's 4th Division. During the next several months, the regiment continued to operate under Majors Waters, Clift and Armstrong, throughout Middle Tennessee., being reported at various times at Tullahoma, McMinneville, Sparta, Pulaski, and in Lincoln Co. In late August and early

Sept., 1864, the regiment was under the overall command of Maj. Gen. Robert H. Milroy, commanding defenses of the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, and fought with confederate forces at McMinnville; and under Brig. Gen. John S. Williams on the line from Nashville to Murfreesboro, around Triune, and at Pulaski and returned to Tullahoma Sept. 9.

September 30, 1864- The 5th Tenn., Maj. Armstrong was reported at Pulaski, with Brig. Gen. John C. Starkweather. On the same date, Lt. Col. Cliff was reported as brigade commander of the 2nd Brigade, 4th Division, with Maj. Armstrong in command of the regiment.

October 31, 1864- Lt. Col Cliff was ordered to report to Lieut. Gen John T. Croxton, Commanding a provisional Div. from the District of the Etowah, which was brought from Chattanooga for the campaign around Nashville.

November 27, 1864- The regiment was with Gen. Milroy at Tullahoma, moved with him to Murfreesboro during the campaign ending with the battle of Nashville, and returned with him to Tullahoma after the battle.

January 26, 1865- The regiment was ordered to Fayetteville where it stayed until mustered out of service.

May 4, 1865- Cap. William O. Rickman commander of the regiment.

August 14, 1865- The regiment was mustered out of service.

This sentence will be read aloud there (or any other place) in the presence of the soldier rendering him unfit for the Army.

Commanding 1st Middle Tenn. Calvary

Sir

Agreeable to your request I have the honor to you the following statements of the facts in my knowledge in regard to HNT Shipp formerly 2nd Lieut. in Co. C which I have the honor of commanding.

On the morning of the 26th of December, 1862 we were ordered to move forward. I ordered Lt. Shipp to remain behind and assist Lt. Beaton in storing surplus of the camp garrison equipment and ordinance stores belonging to the Regiment. in obedience to an order from General Stanley? of which order Lt. Shipp obeyed and put Lt. Shipp in command of the dismounted men of the regiment. When the train came to the regiment on the night of Dec 30 on the right wing the regiment was ordered back to Lavergne on the same night. Lt. Shipp with the train was ordered to follow by order of Col Stokes. I saw Lt. Shipp on the morning of Dec 31. I was then on Stewarts Creek, wounded soon after. The regiment returned from Lavergne. Lt. Shipp was ordered by Cap. John Murphy to bring up the amunition wagon and supply the regiment with amunition, which he did. He then was ordered by Col Stokes to take the amunition wagon to some safe place and join his company. Lt. Shipp placed the wagon under the command of Lt. Beaton and in company with Sgt. Kisiary of Co. E? and started to the regiment. But the regiment in the meantime had been ordered off to the right wing Lt. Shipp came to the ambulance on the night of the 31st of Dec in which I was lying and informed me he could not find the regiment but he had been with the 4th U.S. Calvary in the fight also that day told him if he could not find the regiment he had better take command of the straglers who had left the regiment during the day and start in search of the regiment on the next morning. The wagon train was ordered back to Nashville on the morning of Jan. 1st 1863 and Lt. Shipp was ordered by Col Gilmore to take what mounted men he had and form an advance guard for the train to Nashville which order Lt. Shipp obeyed.

Sir

In obedience to the instructions of the Commanding Gen _____, I have the honor to report, that the fact committed with the absence of 2nd Lt. HNT Shipp. (formerly of my command) from his regiment during the late battle of "Stones River" and his subsequent dismisse from service.

They are as follows:

When the command marched from Nashville on the 26th of December/62 Lt. Shipp was ordered by his company commander to remain at the old camp for the purpose of assisting in collecting and storing the surplus ordinary camp and garrison equipment left by the regiment. After performing the duty for which he has been left He made application to Gen. Mitchel for permission to rejoin the command, but was not permitted to do so for two days, at the end of which time, he started in company with the wagon train of the 6th Cav brigade and all of the dismounted men belonging to this command for time after reaching Nolensville he found that we had turned as of toward Murfreesboro for which point he also Marched Keeping the train under guard Marching the command Marching the command on Tuesday Night about the time that we had been ordered to march for Lavergne. After the men were supplied with rations for supper and breakfast we marched for Lavergne to attack the Rebel Gen. (Wheeler?) our wagons, under the charge of Lt. Shipp as ordered by the Col. _____ (Condy) following in the rear but before reaching Lavergne This event on the night took place which caused us to be ordered to _____ again to the night. We were ordered west of the pike in line of battle and while in that position Lt. Shipp caught up with the ammunition and just as swiftly to the command, and was there ordered by Adjutant Murphy to return with the ammunition train to some secure and safe place he then went with the train to Stewart Creek. and returned in search of his command but we had been ordered forward before his return. At a gallop asst he was failed in his attempt to follow by the apperance of a squad of rebels who attacked and drove him and ----- from on fire. others back to the Pike. he then returned to the creek where he had left the train and was ordered then by a Col _____ (Cacity?) assist infantry regiment to collect all the mustered men that he could and form an advance guard for the train to Nashville.

To correct

He did so and as early thereafter as he could possible he returned again to the the front and rejoined his command.

I omitted to say in the proper place, that after being driven back on Wed. Morn he fell in with the 4th Regulars and was in the fight on that morning with them.

These are the facts as near as I can remember them and I sincerely trust that they together with the statement of Capt. _____ and Lt. Beaton are sufficient to justify a reinstatement to his former position

Sir

In obedience to the instructions of the Commanding Gen _____, I have the honor to report. that the fact committed with the absence of 2nd Lt. HNT Shipp. (formerly of my command) from his regiment during the late battle of "Stones River" and his subsequent dismisle from service.

They are as follows:

When the command marched from Nashville on the 26th of December/62 Lt. Shipp was ordered by his company commander to remain at the old camp for the purpose of assisting in collecting and storing the surplus ordinary camp and garrison equipment left by the regiment. After performing the duty for which he has been left, He made application to Gen. Mitchel for permission to rejoin the command, but was not permitted to do so for two days, at the end of which time, he started in company with the wagon train of the 6th Cav Brigade and all of the dismounted men belonging to this command for time after reaching Nolensville he found that we had turned as of toward Murfreesboro for which point he also Marched Keeping the train under guard Marching the command Marching the command on Tuesday Night about the time that we had been ordered to march for Lavergne. After the men were supplied with rations for supper and breakfast we marched for Lavergne to attack the Rebel Gen. (Wheeler?) our wagons, under the charge of Lt. Shipp as ordered by the Col. _____ (Conudy) following in the rear but before reaching Lavergne This event on the night took place which caused us to be ordered to _____ again to the night. We were ordered west of the pike in line of battle and while in that position Lt. Shipp caught up with the ammunition and just as swiftly to the command, and was there ordered by Adjutant Murphy to return with the ammunition train to some secure and safe place he then went with the train to Stewart Creek, and returned in search of his command but we had been ordered foreward before his return. At a gallop asst he was failed in his attempt to follow by the apperance of a squad of rebels who attacked and drove him to cover and ----- from on fire. others back to the Pike. he then returned to the creek where he had left the train and was ordered then by a Col _____ (Casity?) assist infantry regiment to collect all the mustered men that he could and form an advance guard for the train to Nashville.

He did so and as early thereafter as he could possible he returned again to the the front and rejoined his command.

I omitted to say in the proper place, that after being driven back on Wed. Morning, he fell in with the 4th Regulars and was in the fight on that morning with them.

These are the facts as near as I can remember them and I sincerely trust that they together with the statement of Capt. Whitman and Lt. Beaton are sufficient to justify a reinstatement to his former position

In obedience to the instructions of the commanding Genl I have the honor to report that the fact connected with the absence of and of the ships (generally of my command) from his regiment during the late battle of
 "Star River" and his subsequent dismissal from service
 When the command marched from Nashville on the 21st of December the ships were ordered by his company commander to remain at the old camps for the purpose of assisting in collecting and storing the surplus ordnance, camp and tentage equipment left by the Regt
 after performing the duty for which he has been left off main application to the master for permission to remain his command but was not permitted to do so for the day at the end of which time he started in company with the wagon train of the 1st Regt and all of the dismounted men belonging to the command; he found after passing Nashville he found that the boat borne over from Nashville for which point he also made keeping the train with guards.
 Mending the command on Sunday night about the time that we had been ordered to march for Memphis.

After the men were supplied with rations for supper & breakfast we were for some time to attack the Rebel "Threat" our progress under the charge of Dr. Shipps as ordered by the country, following in the rear but before reaching "Chapman's" on the night. The men were ordered west of the pits in line of battle and again to the night. Dr. Shipps caught up with the Ammunition and just as while in that position. Dr. Shipps caught up with the Ammunition and just as being to the command, and was then ordered by Captain Murphy to return with the Ammunition train to some place and left place. He then went with the train to some place and returned in view of his command but we had been ordered forward before his return. At a later and he was failed in his attempt to follow by the appearance of a squad of Rebels who attacked and drove him from his other back to the pits, he then returned to the creek where he had left the train and was ordered then by a Colonel Conroy an Infantry Regiment to collect all the scattered men that he could, and form an advance guard for the train to Macksville.
 He did so, and as early things as he could possibly, he returned again to the front and rejoined his command.
 of order to say in the proper place, but after being driven back on Wednesday morning. He fell in with the 4th Regular and in the fight on that morning with them.
 there all the rest as near as I can remember them and I sincerely but that they together with the Regiment of Capt. [Name] and the Rebels, are supposed to justify a statement to his former position. I beg very respectfully

Lt. Col Galbraith
Commanding 1st Middle Tenn. Calvary

Sir

Agreeable to your request I have the honor to you the following statements of the facts in my knowledge in regard to HNT Shipp formerly 2nd Lieut. in Co. C which I have the honor of commanding.

On the morning of the 26th of December, 1862 we were ordered to move forward. I ordered Lt. Shipp to remain behind and assist Lt. Beaton in storing surplus of the camp garrison equipment and ordinance stores belonging to the Regiment. in obedience to an order from General Stanley? of which order Lt. Shipp obeyed and put Lt. Shipp in command of the dismounted men of the regiment. When the train came to the regiment on the night of Dec 30 on the right wing the regiment was ordered back to Lavergne on the same night. Lt. Shipp with the train was ordered to follow by order of Col Stokes. I saw Lt. Shipp on the morning of Dec 31. I was then on Stewarts Creek, wounded soon after. The regiment returned from Lavergne. Lt. Shipp was ordered by Cap. John Murphy to bring up the ammunition wagon and supply the regiment with ammunition, which he did. He then was ordered by Col Stokes to take the ammunition wagon to some safe place and join his company. Lt. Shipp placed the wagon under the command of Lt. Beaton and in company with Sgt. Kisiary of Co. E? and started to the regiment. But the regiment in the meantime had been ordered off to the right wing Lt. Shipp came to the ambulance on the night of the 31st of Dec in which I was lying and informed me he could not find the regiment but he had been with the 4th U.S. Calvary in the fight also that day told him if he could not find the regiment he had better take command of the stragglers who had left the regiment during the day and start in search of the regiment on the next morning. The wagon train was ordered back to Nashville on the morning of Jan. 1st 1863 and Lt. Shipp was ordered by Col Gilmore to take what mounted men he had and form an advance guard for the train to Nashville which order Lt. Shipp obeyed.

Sir

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 10th inst. in relation to the proposed exchange of prisoners of war between the United States and Great Britain. I have the honor to inform you that the Government of the United States is not prepared to agree to the proposed exchange of prisoners of war on the terms suggested by you. It is the policy of the Government to treat all prisoners of war as captives of the enemy, and to release them only when the enemy has released our prisoners on an equal basis. I am, Sir, very respectfully, Yours,
