Alphabetical Listing of Carriers

Preface

The last directory of motor carriers in North Dakota was completed in 2003. We are sure you will agree that much has changed since that time. These changes have introduced new firms into the industry as well as eliminated others. In addition, the services provided by carriers have changed.

We hope this directory reflects some of the changes that have occurred in the trucking industry in recent years. The information contained in the directory was gathered by survey from the individual firms. Only those firms that returned the survey are included. Surveys were sent to carriers identified as having commercial vehicles registered in North Dakota, including carriers participating in the International Registration Plan (IRP) with miles apportioned in North Dakota. In addition, the Upper Great Plains Transportation Institute does not take responsibility for the accuracy of any information contained herein, as it came from the individual firms. We apologize for any errors, exclusions, or omissions that may have been made in compiling this data. An online version of this directory can be found at www.ugpti.org.

We hope the organization and content of the directory are useful to you. Any comments you have regarding the organization, content, or any other aspect of this publication to improve future directories that may be published would be appreciated. Suggestions may be directed to:

Introduction

The 2006 North Dakota Motor Carrier Directory has many features. A short introduction helps in understanding the layout. All information found in this directory resulted from a survey of the individual firms with vehicles authorized to operate in the state. Only those responding to the survey are included.

All carriers are first categorized by their physical location. North Dakota was divided into eight areas. Carriers were asked to provide the following information regarding their firms:

1. Name, address, voice and fax numbers, e-mail address, and internet address, as available.
2. Number of tractors, trailers, and trucks owned and leased. We defined these terms as follows: a tractor is a power unit used to pull a trailer, and a truck is a single vehicle containing both a cargo area and a power unit.
3. Scope of operation including, intrastate (North Dakota), regional, nationwide, Canada, and Mexico.
4. Type of business including for-hire or private, and truckload, or less-than-truckload.
5. Trailer types used by the firm.
6. Typical cargo hauled by the firm.

Within each area, carriers are listed in alphabetical order according to either firm name or the owner's last name. To assist in locating a specific firm, an alphabetical index of all carriers has been included.

Directory Statistics

The following information is provided as a curiosity regarding the information provided in this directory. Again, this directory is not an exhaustive listing of all carriers in North Dakota.

These numbers indicate the number of carriers that identified themselves in that category. The exception is the numbers of tractors, trailers, and trucks, which are a summation of the numbers provided by the firms.
