

Climate change is linked to water—to declining snowpacks, retreating glaciers, and changing patterns of precipitation and runoff. We are entering a period of water scarcity not seen in our previous history.

—Abigail Kimbell,
Chief Forester
of the United States

