Dear RHY Colleague:

The Family and Youth Services Bureau (FYSB) is pleased to announce two cooperative agreements with the University of Oklahoma's National Resource Center for Youth Services to run the new Runaway and Homeless Youth (RHY) Training Center and the RHY Technical Assistance Center.

The Runaway and Homeless Youth Training and Technical Assistance Centers (RHYTTAC) can help you through:

- Skill-based training sessions that provide opportunities for hands-on participation, direct observation, and expert feedback
- Distance learning training that focuses on core competencies and innovations beneficial for agency staff
- Program-specific, individualized technical assistance through onsite or telephone consultation
- Mechanisms to share resources on new and emerging information concerning service provision and best practices
- Intensive skill-based technical assistance for newly funded and/or inexperienced grantees
- National RHY Conference that brings together grantees from around the nation to share effective practices and current trends

You may contact the Runaway and Homeless Youth Training and Technical Assistance Centers for training or technical assistance services
