DEFENDANTS

5. Defendant RTC Research & Development, LLC (“RTC”) is a New Jersey limited liability company with its principal office or place of business at 2231 Landmark Place, Manasquan, NJ 08736. At times material to this Complaint, RTC purported that it owned the intellectual property rights for Xenadrine EFX. At times material to this Complaint, acting alone or in concert with others, RTC has advertised, marketed, distributed, and/or sold Xenadrine EFX to consumers throughout the United States. RTC transacts or has transacted business in the District of New Jersey.

6. Defendant Robert Chinery, Jr. (“Robert Chinery”) is President and sole shareholder of Nutraquest, Inc., previously named Cytodyne Technologies, Inc. (“Nutraquest”), which has filed a petition for bankruptcy and is not a named defendant. At times material to this Complaint, Robert Chinery was the President of RTC and also had a twelve and one-half percent ownership interest in Cytodyne, LLC, previously named Everrich, LLC (“Cytodyne, LLC”) through another limited liability company. At times material to this Complaint, acting individually or in concert with others, Robert Chinery has formulated, directed, participated in, or had authority to control the policies, acts, or practices of Nutraquest and RTC, including the acts or practices alleged in this Complaint. Robert Chinery resides and transacts or has transacted business in the District of New Jersey.

7. Defendant Tracy A. Chinery (“Tracy Chinery”) was, at times material to this Complaint, the Secretary and the Vice-President of Nutraquest. At times material to this Complaint, Tracy Chinery was the Managing Member of and had an eighty percent ownership interest in RTC, and was the trustee of trusts that owned the remaining twenty percent. At times material to this Complaint, acting individually or in concert with others, Tracy Chinery has formulated, directed, participated in, or had authority to control the policies, acts, or practices of Nutraquest and RTC, including the acts or practices alleged in this Complaint. Tracy Chinery resides and transacts or has transacted business in the District of New Jersey.

8. Defendants Robert Chinery, Tracy Chinery, and RTC have operated a common business enterprise while engaging in the deceptive acts and practices alleged below and are therefore jointly and severally liable for said acts and practices.

COMMERCE

9. The acts and practices of Defendants alleged in this Complaint have been in or affecting commerce, as “commerce” is defined in Section 4 of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 44.

DEFENDANTS’ COURSE OF BUSINESS

10. Defendants Robert Chinery, Tracy Chinery, and RTC and non-defendant Nutraquest have labeled, advertised, offered for sale, sold, and distributed purported weight loss products to the public. These products include Xenadrine EFX, a dietary supplement marketed since at least 2002. Nutraquest asserts that, in January 2002, it acquired from RTC a license to market and sell Xenadrine EFX.

11. Xenadrine EFX is a tablet containing, among other ingredients, green tea extract, yerba mate, and bitter orange. A 120-tablet bottle of Xenadrine EFX – a one-month supply – sold for approximately $40. In 2002, sales of Xenadrine EFX exceeded $72 million. From January through May 2003, sales of Xenadrine EFX exceeded $28 million.

12. Nutraquest and Defendant Robert Chinery commissioned several studies of Xenadrine EFX that measured the weight of study subjects over periods ranging from two weeks to ten weeks. None of these studies show substantial weight loss caused by Xenadrine EFX. According to one of these studies, subjects taking Xenadrine EFX on average lost only 1.5 pounds over ten weeks, while the control group taking a placebo instead of Xenadrine EFX lost on average 2.5 pounds over the same time period.

13. In May 2003, Defendant Robert Chinery, together with others, established Cytodyne, LLC. In May 2003, the purported license between Nutraquest and Defendant RTC was terminated. Cytodyne, LLC then entered into a licensing agreement with RTC and took over the marketing and sale of Xenadrine EFX. The license between Cytodyne, LLC and RTC includes a clause that requires Cytodyne, LLC to disclose Xenadrine EFX advertising to RTC and gives RTC the right to disapprove the advertising. Since May 2003, Cytodyne, LLC has labeled, advertised, offered for sale, sold, and distributed Xenadrine EFX to the public. From June 2003 through mid-August 2004, sales of Xenadrine EFX exceeded $61 million. During that latter period, Cytodyne, LLC made royalty payments to RTC of over $6 million.

14. Defendants have advertised Xenadrine EFX through nationally disseminated television advertisements, magazine advertisements, and the www.cytodyne.com and www.xenadrine.com websites. Magazine advertisements for Xenadrine EFX have appeared in People, TV Guide, Cosmopolitan, Glamour, Let's Live, Men's Fitness, Women's World, and other publications. The product was available for purchase from retail stores, over the Internet, and through direct sales.

15. To induce consumers to purchase Xenadrine EFX, Defendants Robert Chinery, Tracy Chinery, and RTC have disseminated or caused to be disseminated advertisements for Xenadrine EFX, including but not necessarily limited to the attached Exhibits A through J.

These advertisements contain the following statements and depictions, among others:

or “drug” as defined in Section 15(b) and (c) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 55(b), (c). As set forth below, the Defendants have engaged and/or are continuing to engage in such unlawful practices in connection with the advertising, marketing, and sale of Xenadrine EFX.

UNFAIR OR DECEPTIVE ACTS OR PRACTICES
IN VIOLATION OF THE FTC ACT

COUNT ONE
