

That's great if you can find a few mistakes in a credit report. But what if you didn't find any mistakes at all. How else can these unfortunate consumers with poor credit get help?

Consolidating bills through a credit management agency can be very costly for some people. Here's a thought... Why don't we all file bankruptcy???

Thanks, but we're almost ready to give up!

C