I have been a practicing realtor for 10 years in Northern Virginia. My client/customer base covers MD, VA, DC and occasionally many other states. My potential clients reside in those same areas. Transferees often come from CA and TX. Please reconsider this amendment to the do-not-call registry. The additional costs and especially labor needed to comply will create an undue hardship on our ability to make a living. It is already a costly but necessary expense to stay in compliance with the existing rules. This revision constitutes unreasonable "overkill". Please reconsider what you are trying to accomplish.
