

Colombia

Update on Progress

- ★ On December 11, 2008, Colombia was selected as eligible for a Millennium Challenge Corporation poverty reduction grant, or compact, by MCC's Board of Directors.
- ★ In January 2009 MCC officials met with representatives of Colombia's government to discuss the MCC Compact development process. Participants included President Álvaro Uribe and the Colombian Ambassador to the United States Carolina Barco Isakson.
- ★ An initial MCC high-level visit to Colombia to meet with a variety of stakeholders – including representatives of the Colombian government, members of the private sector, other donor organizations, and NGOs – is the next step in the compact development process. The objectives of the initial trip will be to build working relationships with key contacts, explain the MCC model and process of compact development to stakeholders, and set expectations as to the timeline for development of a potential compact.
