

The OCC continues to utilize National Bankers Association events as communications links to minority banks.

OCC representatives participate in the National Bankers Association's Annual Legislative and Regulatory Conference, held March 17 – 19, 2009, in Washington, DC.

Jennifer Kelly, OCC's Senior Deputy Comptroller for Midsize and Community Bank Supervision, addresses conference attendees to update them on the agency's latest efforts to support minority-owned national banks (MONBs) – including the reissuance of the OCC policy statement on MONBs.

OCC representatives Donelle Ward, Senior Advisor for Midsize and Community Bank Supervision (far left); and Glenda Cross, Senior Advisor for External Outreach and Minority Affairs (2nd from the right) join Jennifer Kelly (center) and John Scroggins, President, CEO, CLO Unity National Bank (far right) to discuss current MONB matters.

Jennifer Kelly (center) and John Scroggins (2nd from the left) meet with other conference attendees Tommy Brooks, Executive Vice President Unity National Bank (far left); Stanley Weeks, Executive Vice President, City National Bank of New Jersey (2nd from the right) ; and Raul Oseguera, Senior Vice President, Special Projects/ Technology, City National Bank of New Jersey (far right).