

Comptroller of the Currency
Administrator of National Banks

US Department of the Treasury

Biographies

Deborah Kligman Director of Statistics and Industry Analysis

Deborah Kligman serves as director of Statistics and Industry Analysis in the International and Economic Affairs Department in the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC).

Prior to serving in that position, Ms. Kligman headed the Statistical Analysis unit in the OCC's Economic Analysis Division.

At the OCC since 1995, Ms. Kligman led the development of many of the International and Economic Affairs Department's analytical information systems and financial reports. She came to the OCC from the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) where she managed the financial information systems that supported the analysis of the condition of the thrift industry.

Ms. Kligman earned a bachelor's of arts from Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pa.

