A meeting was held on 26,27,28,29 February 2004 with representatives from Trigeant and National Resource Development Company and various representatives from Sub Contractors to assess the prospective contractor's capability to meet contract requirements as outlined in SP0600-04-R-0054. The perspective contractor has provided the following written supporting documents as demonstration of the capability to meet the requirements:

Authorization Letter from Ministry of Energy i.e. (to bring in and transit to Iraq) & (instruction to the Jordan Petroleum Company to supply product as needed to Trigeant to include providing storage at the Aqaba Terminal)

Product Specification i.e. Refinery (Source), Local Jordan. I was told that the local Iraqi specification was already forwarded to DESC.

Procedures for Transportation Operation (Through interview and answering my questions)

Letters of Commitment for Sub-Contractors for Supply of Product

Letter of Commitment for Transportation of Product (both in Jordan and Iraqi)

Letter of Intent for Third Party Quality Services (Saybolt)

Letter of Commitment for Security (National Resources Development)

Trigeant has demonstrated through commitments of subcontractors the technical capability to meet the requirements of this contract.

Trigeants major strength is the backing of the Royal Family. This backing was instrumental in the demonstration of Trigeant capability to meet the delivery date by securing approval to through put product, and receive initial supply of product from the Jordanian Petroleum Company.

The National Resources Development Company is the commercial arm of the Design and Development Bureau, which is a military owned company. The Managing Director, Maj. Gen (Retired) Ahman Bataineh, provides an addition strength in the ability to demonstrate the prospective contractors capability to coordinate security both in Jordan and in Iraq.
