

ARS's Millner Displays Vegetables Growing in Compost
From USDA Cafeteria Waste

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1, 2008 – Dr. Pat Millner of the Agricultural Research Service in Beltsville displays how the compostable food service products from the cafeteria (food trimmings and compostable trays) are being returned as “earth friendly” soil amendments at the “Greening the New Year” event held in the South Building Cafeteria on January 31. As part of this event, patrons learned about the BioPreferred Program and about the implementation of BioPreferred cafeteria-ware products in the cafeterias.
