THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES

Upcoming 2007 Spring Workshops:

- 3/13 Finding Family: Using NARA's Online Genealogy Resources
The National Archives holds in trust more than 9 billion records, many of which are useful for genealogical research. Learn what resources are available online and in our Reference Rooms.
- 4/10 Finding Family: Using the Archival Research Catalog (ARC)
ARC is the online catalog of NARA's nationwide holdings. Join us for a hands-on demonstration exploring descriptions pertaining to Native Americans, the courts, land issues, military personnel, immigration and naturalization, and more.
- 5/8 Finding Family: Using the Access to Archival Databases (AAD) Catalog
AAD is the online resource providing access to 85 million historic electronic records preserved permanently in NARA. Join us for a hands-on demonstration exploring select databases relating to military personnel, prisoners of war, immigration, Securities and Exchange Commission records, select Panama Canal records, and more.
- 6/12 Finding Family: Using Digitized Microfilm Holdings
Recently the National Archives entered a partnership to digitize selected records from our vast holdings. Roughly 4.5 million pages are now available via the Public Access Computers in our Reference Rooms. Join us for a hands-on demonstration highlighting records of interest to genealogists and general researchers.

All workshops are from 12:30 PM to 1:15 PM

Workshops are free but space is limited so please call, fax, or email to register.
