

I believe that receiving the exact same credit report that was used to deny me credit is not simply reasonable but essential to reasonable government action not just to protect the consumer but to allow the consumer to protect him or herself.

Ronald G. Woodbury

FL