

Influenza Immunizations by Pharmacists

House Bill 1409, passed by the 81st Texas Legislature, amended the Texas Pharmacy Act to allow pharmacist to administer influenza vaccination to patients over 7 years of age without an established patient-physician relationship. Pharmacists administering vaccinations must have appropriate training and have a written protocol from a supervising physician. The bill becomes effective on September 1, 2009.