2009 MVTS Sponsored Schools

The Motor Vehicle Theft Service provides training for DPS personnel, as well as other peace officers, in the area of vehicle theft investigation and other related topics. This training is provided through basic, advanced, and specialized auto theft investigation schools that are conducted throughout Texas for local, state and federal officers.

The objective of this training is to provide the latest identification techniques available to auto theft investigators, as well as to provide basic detection methods for patrol officers on the street.

Basic Stolen Vehicle Recognition School for Patrol Officers

This training is conducted in the field. Contact your area MVTS office to request training in your area.
