Blanco State Park

Although not large in size, Blanco State Park offers a popular Hill Country retreat within the bounds of a charming, small-town community. Meandering through the park is one mile of the scenic Blanco River, popular with visitors who enjoy swimming, tubing, fishing and canoeing. Developed by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930s, facilities include a pavilion that overlooks the river and a group picnic area, both perfect for family get-togethers.

Camping: campsites with shade shelters and water/electricity or full hookups. Also screened shelters. Special winter rates.

Group Facilities: group pavilion with kitchen (capacity 75) with adjacent volleyball area and playground. Group picnic area without shelter.

Picnicking: day-use sites along river. Playgrounds.

Swimming: swim at own risk in Blanco River.

Rentals: canoes, kayaks and tubes available.

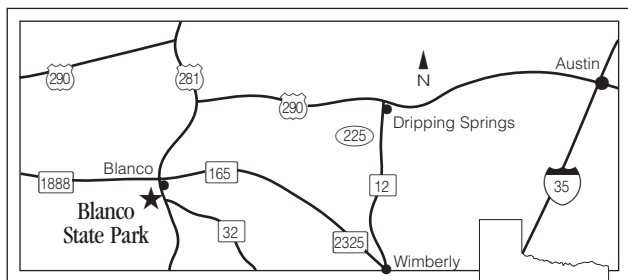

Fishing: catches include crappie, bass, catfish and perch. Rainbow trout stocked in winter.

Hiking: short hiking trail.

Texas State Parks Store: one-of-a-kind items, fishing equipment.

Located in Blanco County, off U.S. 281 on the south side of Blanco at the Blanco River bridge.
