

IIP PUBLICATIONS

IIP's Publications Office produces 40-50 offerings annually in multiple languages (Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Persian, Russian, Spanish, etc.) on topics that explore U.S. policy, society and culture. The range of publications includes:

Books: Running the gamut from pocket-sized publications to illustrated “coffee-table” volumes, these publications are also available online. Books scheduled for release in 2009 include:

- Free at Last: The U.S. Civil Rights Movement
- Abraham Lincoln: A Legacy of Freedom
- Being Muslim in America
- Outline of the U.S. Economy

eJournal USA: This monthly electronic magazine explores subjects of contemporary interest by offering in-depth treatment of a single topic on the America.gov Web site.

Poster shows: Poster sets combine vivid photographs and illustrations with brief text, and are suitable for mounting and display in libraries or other public spaces. Recent poster shows include:

- Founding Fathers
- Visions of Native Americans: The Photographs of Edward S. Curtis
- American Architecture

Youth outreach: “Student Corner” on America.gov features publications for younger audiences including “USA History in Brief” and “The Movie Business Today.”

America 21 Books in Translation Program: America 21 acquires translation rights to books from private-sector U.S. publishers and, working through Embassies, sets up joint publishing ventures with local publishers. America 21 selects high-caliber literary and non-fiction titles by American authors and funds translations of full-length books, condensed editions, anthologies, and special adaptations in book form.
