Defense Solutions for America's Global Partners

At DSCA, we support U.S. national security and foreign policy by building the skills and capacity of our international partners to improve their own security. We also provide critical humanitarian assistance to our partners during times of crisis. Improving our international partners' security contributes to regional stability and increases interoperability with U.S. Forces.

Our top priority is to support the U.S. Combatant Commanders in an anticipatory, efficient, flexible manner so that our international partners are well trained and equipped to be strong, valuable partners in their regions and to participate in joint operations.

We are experts in our field, highly trained, experienced, and deeply committed to providing our partners the highest level of service possible at a a reasonable cost. Our leaders depend on us to overcome challenges and meet pressing needs by applying our unique knowledge and skills to deliver innovative solutions.

DSCA plays a pivotal role in coordination and delivery of Security Cooperation by aligning the priorities of the U.S. Government, international partners, and the defense industry with available resources, laws, and complex business processes.

We apply our subject-matter expertise, institutional knowledge, and established relationships to develop timely, effective, and sustainable defense solutions for the U.S. and its partners.
