Minority Language Materials: Glossary

- As a Section 203 jurisdiction we translate our materials into Spanish & Tohono O'odham.

- We created a glossary of local vernacular which we provide at every polling place and at training class.

- We have an optional training class for our bilingual pollworkers where we discuss the tools available to aid them in serving the voters:

Glossaries

- What are they?
  - Maricopa: a census of how election terms are most commonly translated locally.
  - EAC: a federal glossary of standard translations on a national level
- Suggested uses:
  - As a study guide to familiarize yourself with terms and possible translations
  - Additional words to try if having difficulty communicating.

- Slide from bilingual class

Minority Language Materials: Glossary

- Boardworkers use the two glossaries to expand their knowledge of election-related terminology: that which is used locally, but also additional options if they are assisting a voter new to Arizona.

Minority Language Materials: Glossary

- By expanding their vocabulary the worker may be more successful in communicating with voters.

- The translation of "Ballot" is the perfect example:
  - Maricopa County Glossary:

    Boleta

  - EAC Glossary:

    Papeleta

Minority Language Materials: Glossary

- Pollworkers want to do well and provide voters with quality assistance.

- As this worker told me when we took this picture: "I'm proud to be serving my country!"

Minority Language Materials: Voter Guides

- MCED attends naturalization ceremonies every Friday—usually two!

Minority Language Materials: Voter Guides

- We register between 100-200 new Americans, from an average of 36 nations, each week.

- After the swearing-in ceremony the line forms for SSN, VR, & Passports

Minority Language Materials: Voter Guides

- The Voter Guides are a great resource for voters—particularly for those who are new to the system.

Melanie & Leticia verify that forms are completed correctly & answer voter's questions.

Minority Language Materials: Voter Guides

- Informing voters demystifies the process and makes for a better electorate.

Minority Language Materials: Voter Guides

- This is one of the best parts of being an election administrator!

BENCHMARKING

TASK FORCE

"To identify common measures which can be used by state and local election administrators for the continuous improvement of the elections process."

Election Day Survey Datasets

- Seek to establish common measures in three key areas:
  - Voter Registration
  - Voting & Conducting the Election
  - Counting & Canvassing the Election
- Which are also:
  - Actionable
  - Reliable
  - Measureable/quantifiable

Election Day Survey Datasets

- The Election Center Benchmarking Task Force turned to the data from the EAC because:

  - It is provided by the states to the EAC (rather than gathered by an outside source).

  - Central repository of uniform questions asked nationally.

  - Multi-year data.

  - Readily available.

  - FREE!

Initial meeting in July, 2010

Election Day Survey Datasets

Election Day Survey Datasets

- By requiring the states to report this information it allows for performance management within the jurisdiction.

- Not just for the LEOs, but also the public.
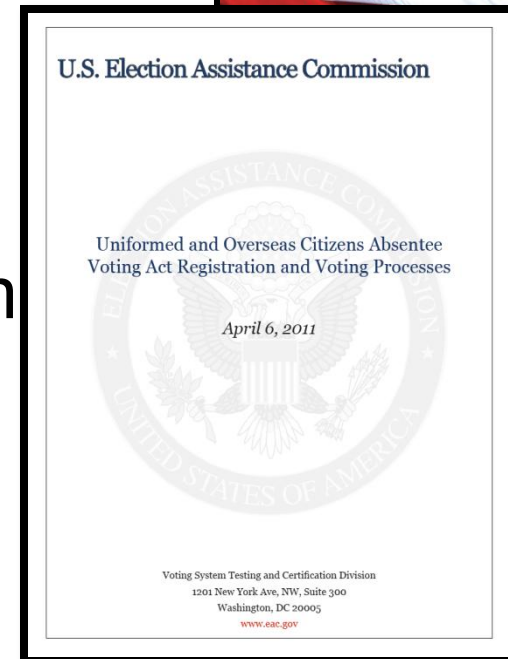

Election Day Survey Datasets

- It also enables comparisons across like-jurisdictions.

UOCAVA Studies & Research

- The studies and research gathered and analyzed by the EAC helped identify areas ripe for improvement of service to this voting population.

- MCED were formal observers for the Uniform Law Commission's Uniform Military and Overseas Voters Act which seeks to address some of these concerns.

- MCED analyzed our own processes and presented this to the TGDC in 2011.
- This discussion cycles back around in the demonstration project conversation.

The symbiotic relationship between local administration and the federal government via the EAC strengthens the American electoral system.
