Notification to these Committees will include an explanation of the action by the appropriate academic accrediting agency or organization not to accredit.

c. Oversee the implementation of the procedures in this Instruction.

d. Notify the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, or the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence, as applicable, when the letter notifying the Senate Armed Services Committee and House Armed Services Committee has been delivered to fulfill statutory notification requirements for new, modified, or redesignated degree-granting authorities, or for any action by an appropriate academic accrediting agency or organization not to accredit a military educational institution to award any new or existing degree.

PROCEDURES

1. NEW DEGREES

a. When seeking to establish a new degree-granting authority, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, or the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence, as applicable, shall:

(1) Submit to the Department of Education's (DoEd) National Advisory Committee on Institutional Quality and Integrity (NACIQI) the self-assessment questionnaire required by the Federal Policy Governing the Granting of Academic Degrees by Federal Agencies and Institutions (Reference (c)). Submit to the appropriate accrediting agency the required substantive change or other documentation required for new degrees.

(2) New degrees must be approved by the U.S. DoEd as well as the appropriate accrediting agency for the institution in question. Within 60 days of receipt of the DoEd determination regarding the establishment of the new degree-granting authority, submit to the PDUSD(P&R) a memorandum requesting notification of the House and Senate Armed Services Committees along with the self-assessment questionnaire and subsequent recommendations and comments of the DoEd and the appropriate academic accrediting agency.

b. The PDUSD(P&R) will coordinate all documentation to be delivered to the House and Senate Armed Services Committees with the Joint Staff, and summarize coordination results in a letter notifying these Committees as required in accordance with Reference (b). Courtesy copies of the notification letter will be provided to the DoD or OSD Component Head and the affected institution as formal communication that the statutory requirement was completed.

c. Upon receipt of the copies of the notification letter by the DoD or OSD Component Head, the affected institution may award the new degree.

2. MODIFICATION OR REDESIGNATION OF DEGREES

a. When seeking to modify or redesignate an existing degree-granting authority, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, or the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence, as applicable, shall:

(2) Submit to the PDUSD(P&R) any subsequent recommendation of the Secretary of Education on the proposed modification or redesignation within 60 days of receipt from the DoEd.

b. Military educational institutions shall not award modified or redesignated degrees until the PDUSD(P&R) informs the DoD or OSD Component Head that the notification has been delivered to House and Senate Armed Services Committees. Notification to these Committees will consist of a copy of the substantive change request and a copy of the subsequent recommendation from the Secretary of Education.

c. Military educational institutions are encouraged to communicate with the Office of the Executive Director of the NACIQI and the appropriate academic agency if there are concerns or questions with regard to what constitutes a substantive change to degree programs.

GLOSSARY

PART I. ABBREVIATIONS AND ACRONYMS

DoEd	Department of Education
NACIQI	National Advisory Committee on Institutional Quality and Integrity
PDUSD(P&R)	Principal Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness

PART II. DEFINITIONS

These terms and their definitions are for the purpose of this Instruction.

degree modification. Any change to a degree program that would initiate notification to an accrediting agency. This includes, but is not limited to, change in delivery method, addition of courses offered at a degree level above that which is included in the institution's current accreditation, change to location where degree is offered, change in credit hour calculation, and substantially increasing or decreasing the length of hours of a degree program. The basic trigger for determining a degree modification is whether the academic accrediting agency believes the changes require a new accreditation by the agency or organization. Altering the curriculum by substituting one course for a more current course that does not alter the degree itself, or minor changes in the curriculum to adjust the program to meet current needs of the Service that do not alter the type or requirements of the degree, are not considered degree modifications.

degree redesignation. A change in classification of a degree program. This includes name change of a degree program, change in type of degree (e.g. Master of Arts degree to Master of Science), and transition of a degree program from one school to another.

military educational institutions. National Defense Intelligence College, National Defense University, United States Army Command and General Staff College, United States Army War College, United States Naval Postgraduate School, Naval War College, Marine Corps University, United States Air Force Institute of Technology, and Air University.

self-assessment questionnaire. A document required by the NACIQI in accordance with Reference (c) when an educational institution seeks to establish a new degree-granting authority.

substantive change request. A concise analysis detailing a request to make changes to a degree program. A substantive change request typically consists of an executive summary, a statement regarding the need to make changes to the degree, analysis of the impact of the proposed change on the rest of the institution, any financial impacts of the proposed change, and legal authorization to conduct the program if required.
