

Graduate Intern Program at the U.S. Census Bureau

If you like the challenge of using numbers to learn about people, the economy, and world events—and you have completed your first year towards a master's or Ph.D. degree with a strong academic record—then there is a paid internship opportunity at the U.S. Census Bureau waiting for you.

Majors: Statistics or Mathematics.

Eligibility: Applicants must have completed the first year of a master's or Ph.D. graduate degree program with a minimum graduate GPA of 3.2 /4.0 scale. United States citizenship is required.

Location: Washington, DC, metropolitan area.

Duration: 12 weeks to 1 year.

Benefits:

- Sick and annual leave available.
- Ongoing educational seminars.
- Opportunities to take short 2-day courses or a semester-length course through the Joint Program in Survey Methodology or at other academic institutions in the Washington, DC, area.
- Metro service available on-site.
- On-site, full-service, state-of-the-art health club facility.

Application

Materials:

- Resume.
- Transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate credits.
- Names, addresses (e-mail), and phone numbers of three references.

Application

Deadline: Applications will be accepted throughout the year until positions are filled. Successful candidates will begin their internship at a mutually agreeable date.

For more information:

http://www.census.gov/hrd/www/jobs/stu_temp.html

U S C E N S U S B U R E A U

Helping You Make Informed Decisions

