Atlas Drop, 13-20 April - Uganda

Mission : Conduct combined planning and rigger familiarization for aerial delivery techniques and aerial delivery platforms with Ugandan and US forces.

“This (shared ability to adapt) can be seen in the way we are working together, as if we have been together before. And yet we have been together for a few days and everything is going on smoothly. Challenges do not say that you stop at them...If you fall down, you have to get up and move on.”

Capt. Deo Akiiki, UPDF public information officer.

Trained: Assisted 450 Ugandan Peoples Defense Forces (UPDF) infantrymen, logisticians and staff officers on requesting and performing aerial resupply missions

Executed: UPDF, U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force successfully performed aerial resupply operations using three multiple aerial platforms and ground forces.

VICENZA, Italy – At the request of the Burundian military, U.S. Army Africa's Africa Deployment Assistance Partnership Team (ADAPT) conducted a deployment capability training event with uniformed members of the Burundian Defense Forces June 6 – 10 at the Bujumbura Military Airfield in Bujumbura, Burundi.

Traffic Management Specialists Sgt. First Class Joseph Shaw and Sgt. First Class Christopher Labugens of the 21st Theatre Support Command in Kaiserslautern, Germany, along with Ammunition Specialist Sgt. First Class Luis Febles and Theater Security Cooperation Program Manager Alexander Menzies from USARAF Logistics Directorate in Vicenza, Italy, taught and monitored the training event.

ADAPT is a USAFRICOM program managed and executed by USARAF. The team was in Bujumbura to share best practices on deploying personnel and equipment via aircraft, and to enhance force projection capabilities of African militaries to better support peace keeping operations, humanitarian relief operations and UN missions.
