

From: robert taylor <robert_1_taylor@hotmail.com>
Sent: Monday, December 27, 2010 6:24 PM
To: PosLimits <PosLimits@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Silver Position Limits and the Law

Honorable Officials:

I am grateful that at least one of your Commissioners has invited public comments prior to the mid-January (Jan. 17) target date set by the Dodd-Frank Law for Mandatory Position Limits.

These speculative position limits are most desperately needed for silver futures. We are a nation of laws, are we not? The hour is late because imminent physical silver shortage will overwhelm the Criminal manipulative short sellers, most notably JPMorgan Chase.

I am a retired high school Chemistry teacher who has written to your Commission many times.

Let us all anticipate the bright day of free markets in silver!

Robert L. Taylor