

Voluntourism in Your Community

Are you interested in creating voluntourism opportunities in your community? Think through the following questions to begin building your program.

What is the primary purpose of beginning a voluntourism program in your community?

What unique projects would interest a voluntourist in your community?

What partnerships could you create to facilitate a voluntourism program?

Organization	Contact Name	Contact Information

What other community stakeholders will you involve?

How can you engage the community so that people are both in favor of and feel as if they have had active ownership and involvement in the process?

What type of accommodations would you make available to voluntourists?

How will you recruit voluntourists?
