

Foreign Direct Investment in the United States Detail for Historical-Cost Position and Related Capital and Income Flows, 1997

THE FOLLOWING TABLES present detailed estimates of the foreign direct investment position in the United States on a historical-cost, or book-value, basis and of the related capital and income flows. These tables supplement an article in the July 1998 SURVEY OF CURRENT BUSINESS that summarized developments in the direct investment positions at historical cost in 1997.¹ The estimates for 1997 are preliminary; those for 1994–96 are revised.

The estimates in tables 3–18 differ in two respects from those for comparable items in the international investment position of the United States and in the U.S. international transactions accounts.² First, the estimates in these tables are on a historical-cost basis, which is the only basis on which detailed estimates by country and industry are available; in contrast, the aggregate estimates of the direct investment position that are included in the international investment position of the United States are presented on both a current-cost and a market-value basis, and the aggregate estimates of direct investment income and capital flows in the U.S. international transactions accounts are presented on a current-cost basis. Second, the estimates of direct investment income and services in the tables, unlike those in the U.S. international transactions accounts, are net (after deduction) of U.S. and foreign withholding taxes; estimates gross of withholding taxes are not available by country or by industry.

Table 1 presents the total foreign direct investment position in the United States and a comparable rate of return on the position on all three valuation bases (historical cost, current cost, and market value); table 2 presents a reconciliation of the estimates in tables

Acknowledgments

The survey from which the data for the foreign direct investment position in the United States and the related capital and income flows were drawn was conducted under the supervision of Gregory G. Fouch, assisted by Howard S. Chenkin, Peter J. Fox, Tracy K. Leigh, Beverly E. Palmer, Nancy F. Steffen, and Linden L. Webber. Karen E. Poffel generated the tables. The text was prepared by Jeffrey H. Lowe.

Reclassification of intercompany debt and associated interest transactions with financial intermediaries

In recent years, a substantial portion of the movement in direct investment capital flows has been accounted for by changes in intercompany debt balances of U.S. affiliates that are primarily engaged in financial intermediation. These affiliates are established mainly to facilitate the U.S. securities and financing businesses of their foreign parents, and the capital flows resulting from these activities have been both sizable and volatile. Although these financial intermediary flows occur within multinational enterprises, the role of the affiliate in these flows typically is that of a conduit through which funds, obtained from, or loaned to, unaffiliated parties are transmitted. Thus, it is more meaningful to record them as if they were between the foreign parent and unaffiliated U.S. residents, rather than as a part of direct investment, which, conceptually, involves a lasting interest in a business enterprise in another country and is motivated by a desire to influence the management of that enterprise.

Beginning with 1994, the positions and transactions associated with intercompany debt between foreign parents (and foreign affiliates of foreign parents) and U.S. financial affiliates that are not depository institutions but are primarily engaged in financial intermediation are reclassified from the direct investment accounts to the accounts for U.S. nonbanking concerns' transactions with unaffiliated foreigners.³ Similarly, interest payments and receipts associated with these debt transactions are reclassified from the direct investment income account to the "other" private income account. Equity capital transactions with these financial intermediaries and the associated earnings payments continue to be classified as direct investment.

U.S. Direct Investment Abroad Detail for Historical-Cost Position and Related Capital and Income Flows, 1997

Detailed data on U.S. direct investment abroad for the historical-cost position and related capital and income flows, which are usually published in the September SURVEY, will be published in the October issue this year. For the U.S. direct investment abroad and related capital and income flows, selected country-by-industry detail for 1994–97 is currently available on BEA's Web site at <www.bea.doc.gov>.

This new treatment is similar to the long-standing treatment of nonpermanent debt investment and associated income transactions between affiliated depository institutions, and it is consistent with the standards recommended in the International Monetary Fund's Balance of Payments Manual (fifth edition). These standards recommend that direct investment positions in, and transactions with, affiliated depository institutions and other financial intermediaries be defined to include only the parents' permanent investment in these affiliates. All other positions and transactions with these affiliates—that is, those associated with their activities as financial intermediaries—should be excluded from direct investment accounts and should be included in the accounts that cover transactions between unaffiliated firms.

As a practical matter, because data on the parents' permanent investment in nonbank financial intermediaries are not collected separately, permanent investment in these affiliates has been defined to be equivalent to the parents' equity investment in the affiliates. Thus, the intercompany debt positions in these affiliates are excluded from the direct investment position, the changes in these positions are excluded from direct investment capital flows, and the associated interest payments and receipts are excluded from direct investment income.

The industrial classification system that was used to classify these affiliates provides a separate classification for depository institutions, but not for other financial intermediaries.⁴ Instead, financial intermediaries and other nonbank financial affiliates are classified in the "other finance" industry. A review of the affiliates in that industry identified two groups of affiliates that have characteristics of financial intermediaries—financial affiliates whose ultimate beneficial owner (UBO) is a foreign depository institution and financial affiliates whose UBO is a finance or insurance firm.⁵

As shown in the following table, the reclassification of intercompany debt positions of nonbank financial intermediaries reduced the historical-cost foreign direct investment position in the United States in each of the 4 years; the reductions ranged from $15.9 billion in 1994 to $82.3 billion in 1997; the reductions were concentrated in affiliates of parents in Europe, particularly those in the United Kingdom and, to a lesser extent, in Switzerland, France, and the Netherlands. The reclassification of intercompany debt transactions reduced capital inflows from $1.3 billion in 1996 to $54.1 billion in 1997. The reductions were also centered among transactions with European parents.

The reclassification of associated interest payments and receipts reduced direct investment income payments for 3 of the 4 years for which data were revised. The reductions ranged from $0.2 billion in 1995 to $1.3 billion in 1997. In 1996, the reclassification raised income payments $0.5 billion.

Estimates of the foreign direct investment position in the United States and of the balance of payments transactions between U.S. affiliates and their foreign parent groups for 1980–96 are available as downloadable files on the BEA Web site and on diskette from BEA. (In the fall, these products will be updated to incorporate the revised estimates for 1994–96 and the preliminary estimates for 1997.)

To obtain the data files from the Web site, click on Catalog of Products, and look under International Accounts Products, Foreign Direct Investment in the United States.

The estimates are on two diskettes for $20 each: For 1980–86 (product number IDN-0066) and for 1987–96 (product number IDN-0138). 4. This system was adapted from the 1987 Standard Industrial Classification system. Recently, BEA has developed a new system, adapted from the North American Industrial Classification System, 1997, that contains distinct classifications for affiliates that are financial intermediaries and thus provides for more direct and precise identification of these affiliates. This new system is being introduced in the 1997 Benchmark Survey of Foreign Direct Investment in the United States.

5. The UBO is that person, proceeding up a U.S. affiliate's ownership chain, beginning with and including the foreign parent, that is not owned more than 50 percent by another person. Ideally, the reclassification should not have been extended to affiliates of UBO's that are insurance companies. However, the industry of UBO for both foreign finance and insurance firms is reported under a single industry code, so these affiliates could not be excluded from the reclassification. However, most of the UBO's appear to be in finance rather than in insurance.

General Notes to the Tables

- Detail may not add to totals, because of rounding.
- An asterisk “(*)” indicates a value between -$500,000 and $500,000.
- A “(D)” indicates that the data in the cell have been suppressed to avoid disclosure of data of individual companies.
- The European Union (12) comprises Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, and the United Kingdom.
- The European Union (15) comprises the European Union (12) and the three countries—Austria, Finland, and Sweden—that joined the Union in 1995.
- OPEC is the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries. Its members are Algeria, Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Kuwait, Libya, Nigeria, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, and Venezuela. Before 1995, Gabon was also a member.

1. On a historical-cost basis, direct investment income excludes capital gains and losses and is computed without a current-cost adjustment to earnings; it equals the sum of lines 9 and 14 of table 2. The rate of return based on historical cost equals this measure of income divided by the average of the beginning- and end-of-year historical-cost direct investment positions. In accordance with international guidelines, this measure of income, like the other measures shown in this table, is recorded gross (before deduction) of U.S. and foreign withholding taxes on distributed earnings and interest. However, it differs from the measure disaggregated by country and industry in subsequent tables, which is recorded net (after deduction) of withholding taxes, because withholding tax data are not available by country or industry.

2. On a current-cost basis, direct investment income excludes capital gains and losses and includes a current-cost adjustment to earnings; the latter adjusts depreciation, depletion, and expensed exploration and development costs to reflect current-period prices, and to more closely align income earned in a given period with charges against income in the same period, as required for the national and international economic accounts. Income on a current-cost basis equals line 1 of table 2. The rate of return based on current cost equals this measure of income divided by the average of the beginning- and end-of-year current-cost direct investment positions.

3. On a market-value basis, direct investment income measures financial return to investors; thus, it includes capital gains and losses but excludes the current-cost adjustment, which is an economic accounting adjustment, and currency translation adjustments, which in company financial statements are taken directly to an equity account, without passing through the income statement. It is derived as line 1 minus line 8 of table 2, plus the part of the total in column 11 of table 5 that represents capital gains and losses other than currency translation adjustments. The rate of return based on market value equals this measure of income divided by the average of the beginning- and end-of-year direct investment positions at market value.

NOTE.—This table reconciles the estimates for which country and industry detail are presented in this report with the aggregate estimates presented in the U.S. international transactions accounts in the July 1998 SURVEY OF CURRENT BUSINESS (see "U.S. International Transactions, First Quarter 1998," Survey 78 (July 1998): 59–103). In the international transactions accounts, the earnings component of direct investment income and the reinvested earnings component of capital inflows are adjusted to a current-cost basis, and direct investment current-account items are adjusted to be gross (before deduction) of U.S. and foreign withholding taxes. These adjustments are not made to the estimates in tables 3–18 in this report, because the source data needed to make the adjustments by country and industry are not available.

1. The data reflect a discontinuity between 1993 and 1994 due to the reclassification from direct investment to other investment accounts of intercompany debt flows and associated income payments between parent companies and affiliates that are nondepository financial intermediaries.

2. Consists of service charges, rentals for the use of tangible property, and film and television tape rentals.

NOTE.—In this table, unlike in the international transaction accounts, income, royalties and license fees, and charges for other services are shown net of withholding taxes, and capital inflows, reinvested earnings, and income are shown without a current-cost adjustment.

1. The data reflect a discontinuity between 1993 and 1994 due to the reclassification from direct investment to other investment accounts of intercompany debt flows and associated income payments between parent companies and affiliates that are nondepository financial intermediaries.

NOTE.—In this table, unlike in the international transactions accounts, income and capital flows are shown without a current-cost adjustment, and income is shown net of withholding taxes.

1. The ultimate beneficial owner is that person, proceeding up a U.S. affiliate's ownership chain, beginning with and including the foreign parent, that is not owned more than 50 percent by another person. The country of ultimate beneficial owner is often the same as that of the foreign parent, but it may be a different foreign country or the United States.

NOTE.—In this table, unlike in the international transactions accounts, income is shown net of withholding taxes and without a current-cost adjustment.
