

California
Youth Regional Treatment Centers
Indian Health Service

West Plainfield Community Meeting Proposed IHS Youth Treatment Center in Yolo County

- When: February 9th, 2011, 7:00 PM
- Where: Lillard Hall at 24901 County Road 95, Davis, CA
(West Plainfield Fire Station)
- What: A community meeting hosted by the Indian Health Service
- Why: To provide you information on the proposed IHS youth treatment center in Yolo County and to encourage your input about the project
- Who: Everyone is welcome, no RSVP required

Youth Regional Treatment Centers (YRTC) provide residential chemical dependency treatment for American Indian and Alaska Native youth, ages 12-17.

These treatment centers:

- ✓ ARE residential chemical dependency treatment centers for American Indian and Alaska Native youth, ages 12-17
  - ✓ ARE voluntary treatment centers only for youth whose parents or guardians consent to their treatment
  - ✓ ARE operated 24-hours by professional staff
  - ✓ ARE a place for healing, learning, and restoring the balance and harmony in mind, body, and spirit
  - ✓ ARE in 10 States and some have been operating for more than 20 years
  - ✓ ARE accredited, State-licensed and staffed by licensed health care providers
- ✗ ARE NOT for violent criminals
  - ✗ ARE NOT for youth who are likely to be dangerous and/or have been charged with or convicted of violent crimes
  - ✗ ARE NOT detention treatment centers nor are they juvenile justice facilities

The Indian Health Service (IHS) has a responsibility to provide factual information, listen to the community, and respond appropriately.

Gary Ball and Steven Zerebecki
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
California Area Indian Health Service
650 Capitol Mall, Suite 7-100
Sacramento, CA 95814
(916) 930 – 3981 Ext. 342 or 366
CAOYRTCUPD@ihs.gov

