Hi Steve,

Things have progressed and evolved since we last tried to touch bases on this, but I would still like a quick follow up conversation with you. How does your schedule look on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week?

Hi Steve,

As you know, I have just started a new assignment to assist Marcia McNutt with some of her activities regarding the Deepwater Horizon science response. She has asked that I contact you to learn more about the JAG concept, and to help move it forward and engage USGS.

I have read the JAG proposal that you sent Marcia on May 30, and today's Brooks McCall meeting briefly addressed how that effort relates to the JAG. I would find it very useful to talk to you further about the JAG, to help figure out how I can best support Marcia and you in this effort.

I know you have a huge amount on your plate, but do you have any availability tomorrow (Tuesday) for a quick call? If so, is there a particular time that works best? If tomorrow is booked, perhaps wednesday...

I look forward to talking with you, and hope something will fit your schedule.

Best regards,

Fw Do you have a few moments next week to discuss JAG
