

PRESS RELEASE

CONTACT: Elizabeth M. Martinez
Executive Assistant U.S. Attorney
Public Affairs Officer
elizabeth.martinez@usdoj.gov
505.224.1469

For Immediate Release

May 22, 2012

DEXTER, N.M., MAN SENTENCED TO TWELVE YEARS IN PRISON FOR POSSESSION CHILD PORNOGRAPHY

ALBUQUERQUE – This morning, a U.S. District Judge sentenced Norman Allen, 50, of Dexter, N.M., to twelve years of imprisonment to be followed by a lifetime of supervised release for possessing a visual depiction of a minor engaged in sexually explicit conduct. The Judge also ordered Allen to pay $500.00 in restitution to the victim in a child pornography image that was found on his computer. Allen also was ordered to register as a sex offender after he completes his prison sentence.

U.S. Attorney Kenneth J. Gonzales said that Allen was sentenced based on his guilty plea to Count 3 of a three-count indictment charging him with one count of distribution of child pornography and two counts of possession of child pornography.

According to court records, the case against Allen was initiated after an undercover investigation by the New Southwest Missouri Cyber Crimes Task Force revealed that Allen was offering child pornography images through a peer-to-peer filing sharing program in Dec. 2010. Based on information generated by that investigation, the Chaves County Sheriff's Office executed a search warrant at Allen's residence in Dexter in April 2011, and seized computers and computer-related media. Allen was indicted on July 13, 2011, and was arrested on July 21, 2011. He has been in federal custody since that time.

Allen entered his guilty plea on Jan. 23, 2012, under a plea agreement with the U.S. Attorney's Office. In his plea agreement, Allen acknowledged that a forensic examination of his computers and computer-related media uncovered hundreds of child pornography images and videos. Allen also acknowledged that the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children determined that the child pornography images found on his computers and computer-related media included 27 child pornography videos of 16 children who have been identified as child pornography victims and have been rescued. In addition to admitting that he unlawfully possessed child pornography in April 2011, Allen also admitted that he has a prior felony conviction for sexual assault of a minor from a New Jersey state court.

As required by the plea agreement, Counts 1 and 2 of the indictment were dismissed after Allen was sentenced.

The case was prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorney Charlyn E. Rees, and was investigated by Chaves County Sheriff's Office, the Southwest Missouri Cyber Crimes Task Force and the Albuquerque office of Homeland Security Investigations. The case was brought as part of Project Safe Childhood, a nationwide initiative launched in May 2006 by the Department of Justice (DOJ) to combat the growing epidemic of child sexual exploitation and abuse. Led by United States Attorneys' Offices and DOJ's Criminal Division's Child Exploitation and Obscenity Section, Project Safe Childhood marshals federal, state and local resources to better locate, apprehend and prosecute individuals who exploit children via the Internet, as well as to identify and rescue victims. For more information about Project Safe Childhood, please visit www.projectsafefchildhood.gov.

The case also was brought as part of the New Mexico Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force's (ICAC Task Force) mission to locate, track, and capture Internet child sexual predators and Internet child pornographers in New Mexico. There are 61 federal, state and local law enforcement agencies associated with the ICAC Task Force, which is funded by a grant administered by the NMAGO. Anyone with information relating to suspected child predators and suspected child abuse is encouraged to contact federal or local law enforcement.

###