DECISIONS IN ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDINGS

OCT 22 1974

ALBERT CORNETT, ALVIN LESLIE AND
JAMES J. REILLY BARRED; BARS OF
PAUL ALESSANDRINI AND PERRY SCHEER EXTENDED

LIBRARY

The Commission has barred Albert Cornett, Alvin Leslie and James J. Reilly, who were employees of Alessandrini & Co., Inc. (A Co.), formerly a New York City broker-dealer, from association with any broker-dealer, investment adviser or investment company. After two years, they may apply to become associated with a broker-dealer in a non-supervisory and non-proprietary capacity.

The bars imposed in previous administrative proceedings on Paul Alessandrini, who was president of A Co., and Perry Scheer, of New York City, who was associated with another broker-dealer, were extended. As a result, Alessandrini and Scheer are now barred from association with any broker-dealer, investment adviser or investment company. After two years from October 31, 1973, Alessandrini may apply to the Commission to become associated with a broker-dealer in a non-supervisory, non-proprietary capacity subject to adequate supervision. After two years from April 19, 1974, Scheer may apply to become associated with an investment adviser or investment company in a non-supervisory capacity and, after three years from that date, to become so associated with a broker-dealer.

The sanctions imposed were based on findings that, during the period from 1967 through 1969, the respondents other than Alessandrini violated antifraud provisions by establishing and participating in the establishment of nominee and profit-sharing accounts for the purpose of purchasing and selling new issue securities underwritten by A Co. and other broker-dealers which were intended for distribution to the public. It was also found that A Co., Cornett, Leslie and Reilly violated recordkeeping provisions in the establishment of such accounts. Alessandrini was found responsible for a failure of supervision with respect to the foregoing misconduct and, together with A Co., for the firm's failure to file a properly certified 1972 financial report with the Commission.

The Commission's action was based on offers of settlement in which the respondents, without admitting or denying the charges against them, consented to the findings and the indicated sanctions. As part of their offer, A Co. and Alessandrini agreed to withdraw their appeal from action taken against them by the Commission in prior administrative proceedings in which A Co.'s broker-dealer registration was revoked and Alessandrini was barred from association with any broker-dealer. (Rel. 34-11041)

TRADING SUSPENSIONS

TRADING SUSPENDED IN BIO-MEDICAL SCIENCES, INC.

Over-the-counter trading has been suspended in the securities of Bio-Medical Sciences, Inc. (Bio-Medical), a New York corporation located in New York City, for the ten-day period October 21 through October 30, 1974.

The Commission initiated the suspension of trading in the securities of Bio-Medical from October 11, 1974 through October 20, 1974 because counsel for certain board members and noteholders of Bio-Medical have furnished information to the staff which raises substantial questions regarding Bio-Medical's current financial condition. The Commission has initiated the temporary trading suspension in the securities of Bio-Medical for a further ten-day period. (Rel. 34-11064)

COURT ENFORCEMENT ACTIONS

---

SCHERL, EGENER & BASSUK, INC. OTHERS ENJOINED

The New York Regional Office announced that on September 10 the Federal Court in New York City permanently enjoined Scherl, Egener & Bassuk, Inc., a broker-dealer of New York City, and its majority stockholder, Gerald H. Cahill, from violations of the net capital and bookkeeping provisions of the securities laws. (SEC v. Scherl, Egener & Bassuk, Inc., et al., U.S.D.C. S.D.N.Y.). (LR-6530)

OPEN ROAD INDUSTRIES, INC. ENJOINED

The SEC announced that on October 15 U.S. District Judge William B. Bryant permanently enjoined Open Road Industries, Inc. (Open Road), El Segundo, California, for a period of twenty-five years from failing to file with the Commission timely and proper periodic and current reports in contravention of Section 13(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the rules thereunder.

The court order provided that the injunction may be dissolved or modified by the Court on Open Road's application, with notice to the Commission, for good cause shown and upon a demonstration to the Court that Open Road has for five years from the effective date of the order filed the required timely and proper reports.

Subsequent to the institution of the Commission's action against Open Road on August 29, 1974, Open Road filed its delinquent annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1974, and a delinquent quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the fiscal quarter ended July 31, 1974.

The common stock of Open Road is listed on the American Stock Exchange and the Pacific Stock Exchange which halted trading thereon on August 8, 1974. The Commission suspended trading in the securities of Open Road for one ten-day period beginning on August 29, 1974. (SEC v. Open Road Industries, Inc., U.S.D.C. D.C.). (LR-6552)
