<sup>1</sup>Reclamation will consider a drought declaration to be effective for 1 year after the date of issuance (see Paragraph 9.C. of Interim Title I Directive and Standard at <http://www.usbr.gov/drought/>.)

<sup>2</sup>Section 8.a. of the original 1998 State of New Mexico Drought Plan states, "Initial release of any drought status or response information will originate from the Office of the Governor . . ." Therefore, the State of New Mexico must have a Governor's declaration on file to provide assistance.
