KEEPING AMERICA INFORMED

November 2011

I am proud to present the GPO's FY2012-2016 Strategic Plan. This plan is our blueprint for the future and provides the goals and initiatives by which GPO will carry out its mission of Keeping America Informed for the next five years. For 150 years, GPO has provided our customers with world-class service and doing so remains our top priority.

In August 2011, there was an offsite strategic planning meeting where senior managers discussed key efforts that will be required in FY2012-2016 to make our vision a reality. To that end, we are committed to focusing our efforts on meeting ten goals which are grouped into four major initiatives that will ensure we provide the best possible service to our customers.

GPO's FY2012-2016 Strategic Goals, sorted by four major initiatives, are as follows:

Satisfying Your Stakeholders

- It's All About the Customer
- Open and Transparent
- Enhance Strategic Partnerships

Strengthening Our Organizational Foundation

- Right Tools
- Maintain Fiscal Responsibility
- Environmental Stewardship
- COOP Operations

Offering Products and Services

- Statutory Foundation, Title 44, USC
- Secure Federal Credentials

Engaging Our Workforce

- Employer of Choice

GPO is committed to a strategic management framework that promotes continuous assessment and improvement year after year. The framework focuses on strategic planning, budgeting, performance measurement, and operations. This plan also reflects the professionalism and hard work of GPO employees who tirelessly exceed all expectations in Keeping America Informed.

Mission Statement

---

The mission of GPO is to produce, protect, preserve, and distribute the official publications and information products of the Federal Government.

About GPO

GPO is the Federal Government's primary centralized resource for producing, procuring, cataloging, indexing, authenticating, disseminating, and preserving the official information products of the U.S. Government in digital and tangible forms. The agency is responsible for the production and distribution of information products for all three branches of the Federal Government, including U.S. passports for the Department of State as well as the official publications of Congress, the White House and other Federal agencies, and the courts.

Along with sales of publications in digital and tangible formats to the public, GPO supports openness and transparency in Government by providing permanent public access to Federal Government information at no charge through its Federal Digital System (www.fdsys.gov) and through partnerships with approximately 1,220 libraries nationwide participating in the Federal Depository Library Program.

Core Values

GPO's core values define our character. These values transcend product and market cycles, management trends, technological change, and individual leaders. Over the years, GPO has developed new product lines, employed new strategies, reengineered processes, and significantly restructured the organization, yet our core values have remained intact.

Vision

---

To engage the talents and expertise of the workforce in offering a complete range of Government documents and services and treat customers extraordinarily well.

Situational Analysis

---

GPO is facing the following trends that have direct impact on its business model, requiring it to transform itself and aggressively posture itself for the future.

Digital Documents

Approximately 97% of all U.S. Government documents are now born digital, published to the Web, and will never be printed by the Federal Government. Internet and Intranet search are the preferred methods for obtaining information.

Changing Business Model

GPO's traditional business model of agency payments for tangible printing products and services is impacted by the trend toward an open and transparent Government in which information is available for free.

Market Niche Competitors

The key competitors in the publishing industry have developed market niches, which capitalize on their strengths and capabilities. This makes them significant players in their particular marketing space.

Transition Workforce

The workforce is in transition because of changing demographics and required skill sets. Therefore, succession planning initiatives will be required to enable GPO to become an Employer of Choice.

Financial Pressures

Financial pressures and the need to generate a positive contribution margin will continue to impact strategic decisions, requiring human and capital investments to be aligned with appropriate return-on-investment criteria.

Title 44 U.S.C.

Title 44 U.S.C. rules and regulations may require review as GPO undergoes a transformation in an attempt to accommodate and respond to government trends.
