CIVIL NO. 1 97-CV 3792

-HTW

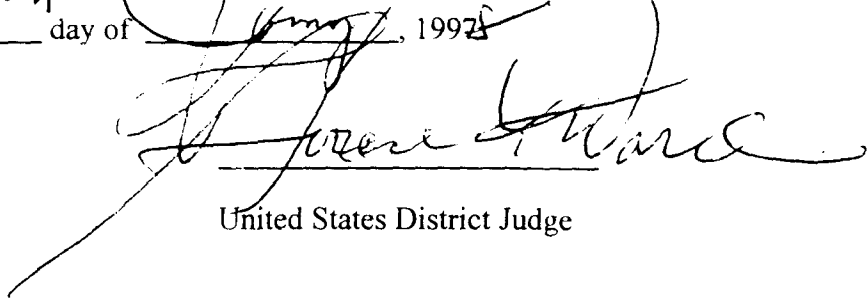

CONSENT JUDGMENT

Upon consideration of the plaintiff's Complaint for Injunctive Relief in the above-captioned action, and based on the consent of the defendant, it is ORDERED, ADJUDGED, and DECREED pursuant to Section 7407 of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C.) that:

1. From the date of this judgment, the defendant Phillip S. Bailey shall be permanently enjoined from acting directly or indirectly as an income tax return preparer and from engaging in conduct subject to penalty under 26 U.S.C. § 6694 and 6701, and from engaging in conduct which substantially interferes with the proper administration of the Internal Revenue laws of the United States of America, including preparing any federal income tax returns for others and from employing any other persons to prepare federal income tax returns at his direction or under his control;
2. Failure by the defendant to comply with the permanent injunction entered in the above-captioned case may subject the defendant to civil contempt sanctions, which may include monetary fines and/or incarceration; and

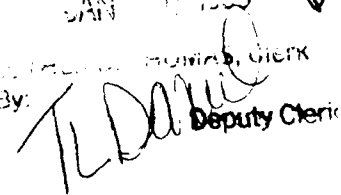

3. Each party shall bear its own costs in defending this action, including any attorneys fees.

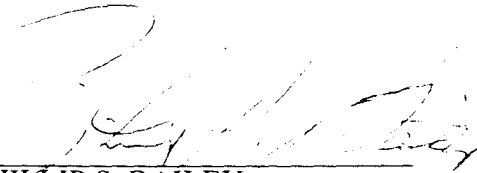

SO ORDERED, this 6th day of January, 1997
