Fixed Indexed annuities are great Insurance products for a seniors, because there is no downside risk to the client. The downside risk is put on the insurance company. The SEC can't keep their own in order and now they want to regulate the insurance companys. the state insurance dept. are doing a good job. The SEC is being pressured by the broker dealers to take over because it is a great product and they are losing money to the insurance companies. Please object to 151. Thank you
