DETERMINATION GRANTING GOOGLE, INC. INTERVENOR STATUS, BUT NOT RESPONDENT STATUS

AGENCY: U.S. International Trade Commission.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the U.S. International Trade Commission has determined not to review an initial determination ("ID") (Order No. 3) of the presiding administrative law judge ("ALJ") granting Google, Inc. ("Google") of Mountain View, California status as an intervenor in the investigation, but not as a respondent.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Commission instituted this investigation on June 8, 2012, based on a complaint filed on behalf of Nokia Corporation of Espoo, Finland, and Nokia Inc. and Intellisync Corporation, both of Sunnyvale, California. 77 Fed. Reg. 34063-64. The complaint alleges violations of section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, 19 U.S.C. § 1337, based upon the importation in the United States, the sale for importation, and the sale within the United States after importation of certain electronic devices, including mobile phones and tablet computers, and components thereof by reason of infringement of certain claims of U.S.

Patent Nos. 5,570,369; 5,884,190; 6,141,664; 6,393,260; 6,728,530; 7,106,293; 7,209,911; 7,365,529; and 7,415,247. The complaint further alleges the existence of a domestic industry. The Commission's notice of investigation named HTC Corporation of Taoyuan City, Taiwan and HTC America, Inc. (collectively, "HTC") of Bellevue, Washington; and Exedea, Inc. of Houston, Texas as respondents. The Office of Unfair Import Investigations is not participating as a party in this investigation.

On July 16, 2012, non-party Google moved to intervene as a respondent in the investigation. HTC filed a response in support of Google's motion and complainants filed a response in opposition.

On August 3, 2012, the ALJ issued the subject ID (Order No. 3) granting Google intervenor status in the investigation, but denying its request to intervene as a respondent. The ALJ found no compelling reason to permit Google to become a respondent because none of Google's Android products would be directly excludable by any exclusion order that could issue in the investigation. No party petitioned for review.

The Commission has determined not to review the subject ID.

The authority for the Commission's determination is contained in section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, 19 U.S.C. § 1337, and in section 210.42(h) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 19 C.F.R. § 210.42(h).

By order of the Commission.
