

Consultant Network Application Training and Technical Assistance Expert Consultant

Thank you for your interest in enrolling as a consultant for the Office for Victims of Crime (OVC) and its Training and Technical Assistance Center (OVC TTAC,) which supports capacity-building needs of organizations serving victims of crime. The availability of a skilled, high-quality, and diverse Consultant Network is critical to OVC's success in managing training and technical assistance resources that support OVC programs, projects, and activities.

The Consultant Network provides OVC with a direct line of communication with training and technical assistance needs of service providers and allied professionals working with crime victims. Your participation is important to OVC, regardless of whether you have expertise in many areas or one specific specialty area. By working with OVC, you have the opportunity to make a positive impact on victims of crime on a national level.

Please complete the Consultant Network Application as accurately as possible, as this information will be used to match your skills and experience with specific requests for speaking, training, and technical assistance. While definitions and explanations about the different sections are provided for you, The Guide to Completing the Consultant Network Application is also available in Microsoft Word and PDF formats at www.ovcttac.gov/CNAGuide.

If you need assistance completing this form or have specific questions, please contact OVC TTAC toll free at 1-866-OVC-TTAC (682-8822), selecting customer service option 2 for Consultant Network Application inquiries, or through our TTY at 1-866-682-8880.

D. TECHNICAL SKILLS AND EXPERIENCE AREAS

(Required)

This section gathers information about your general experience in speaking and in delivering training and TA within certain substantive and functional skill areas. OVC and OVC TTAC may wish to use your expertise to assist with training and technical assistance. For instance, consultants could be asked to deliver a panel presentation; develop and deliver trainings; provide customized training and technical assistance; conduct in-depth technical assistance; or conduct peer reviews of publications, curricula, or grant applications.

Please note that OVC uses the following definitions for speaking engagements, training, and technical assistance:

- Speaking is the delivery of speeches or lectures with the intent of sharing particular subject matter expertise.
- Training is the planning, development, delivery and evaluation of activities designed to achieve specific learning objectives for individuals, groups, or organizations. The learning objectives may be achieved using a variety or combination of instructional strategies (e.g., lecture, group discussion, demonstration role play, and other methods of group and individual integration). Training may include such activities as onsite instruction, classroom training, distance learning, self-directed learning, and workshops.
- Technical Assistance (TA) is a process of providing targeted support or intervention in order to address a developmental need, resolve a problem, or create an innovative approach to an emerging complex issue. TA may be delivered in many different ways, such as one-on-one consultation or group facilitation, and to varying extent, based on the validated need, the scope of the [grant/]agreement, and the availability of [OJP] resources.

For each skill area below, indicate your experience with that type of work, if any, and provide the number of years of experience you have accumulated in the specific competency and the frequency with which you apply that expertise through your work.

Please note: Your attached resume or CV should verify all experience as noted below.

H. BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

(Required)

Please include your current biographical sketch, resume/CV, and relevant publications as required attachments to the Consultant Network Application.

The biographical sketch (bio) is an important part of your Consultant Network Application data. It provides a concise summary of your knowledge, skills, and experience, and provides requesters and OVC information about you as they consider and approve experts suitable to respond to needs identified in the field. To ensure consistency among biographical sketches, please draft your biography according to the guidelines and the sample biographical sketch presented below. Please attempt to write succinct statements in approximately 300 words or less.

For your current position, please indicate your title, year assumed, and organization; and describe your role in your program and/or organization. In addition, please provide the following:

- A brief synopsis of your experience over the past 10 years.
- Your area of expertise and highlights of special accomplishments.
- Examples of the types of training (e.g., stalking, rural victims of crime, working with reluctant victims) you have conducted or are most comfortable conducting.
- A list of any special nominations, awards, or honorary degrees that you have received as well as any published works, presentations, or public appearances.
- Your educational history (degree, year, and institution).

Bios will be reviewed and edited according to the above stated guidelines. Please be aware that statements that do not speak directly to your experience or expertise may be deleted.

SAMPLE BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Jane Smith has served as the executive director for the Crime Victims Advocacy Group (CVAG) since August 1997. She manages CVAG's administrative operations and oversees its development, marketing, publications, and media relations initiatives. In this capacity, she engages in strategic planning, staff development, and board relations. Ms. Smith also serves on the board of the Homicide Victims Advocacy Coalition, where she chairs the external relations committee. Ms. Smith has extensive experience in developing effective education and outreach programs that reflect best practices in victim advocacy. Ms. Smith's commitment to the victims' movement stems from her experience as a homicide survivor, an experience that left her with a partial disability. Her story and message have been featured on Larry King Live and Good Morning America. Ms. Smith's advocacy was instrumental in promoting and enforcing consumer privacy laws in the Commonwealth of Virginia. In addition, she has developed successful partnerships with faith-based groups and effective relationships with nonprofit boards. These partnerships have been successful in disseminating messages about victims of crime at the grassroots level. Before joining CVAG, Ms. Smith served as vice president of Fenton Communications, Inc., a communications/public relations firm specializing in nonprofit and public interest communications. Ms. Smith has a B.A. degree in English from Columbia University in New York.
