

Webcast on the Kimberley Process

U.S. Census Bureau sent this bulletin at 03/26/2012 04:43 PM EDT

In 2003, The Kimberley Process Certification Scheme (KPCS), a joint government, international diamond industry and civil society initiative to stem the flow of conflict diamonds was established by the United Nations. The KPCS establishes controls and monitors standards, practices and procedures for its members to enable them to certify shipments of rough diamonds as “conflict-free.”

As we approach the ten-year anniversary of the Kimberley Process (KP), the United States of America has been selected as the Chair of the KP for 2012. Please join KP Chair, Ambassador Gillian Milovanovic, for an on-the-record Webchat about the KP on Tuesday, April 3, 2012, at 9:00 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time (United States).

The goal of the Webchat is to discuss the KP, how it works, what it has achieved and how it plans to move forward. You will have an opportunity to submit questions prior to and during the chat.

To join this event on April 3, 2012, go to <http://conx.state.gov/digital-diplomacy/>.

If you have any questions regarding the Webchat, please contact:

Name: J.J. Harder, Advisor to the KP Chair

E-mail: kpcs.chair@state.gov

Phone: 202-647-2547