EXCHANGE

OUR MISSION:

“The Army and Air Force Exchange Service (the Exchange) has an enduring mission to provide quality merchandise and services to its customers at competitively low prices and to generate earnings which provide a dividend to support morale, welfare and recreation programs.”

ORGANIZATION

The Exchange is a joint military activity providing quality merchandise and services to active duty, Guard and Reserve members, military retirees and their families at competitively low prices. The Exchange returns earnings to the military services to improve troops' quality of life and to provide a dividend to support morale, welfare, and recreation (MWR) programs. The Exchange is now in its 116th year. While most of the Exchange's earnings go to Army Family and Morale, Welfare and Recreation Command (FMWRC) and to Air Force Services for MWR activities – $261.6 million in 2009 – the remainder funds new and improved Exchange stores.

In addition to improving quality-of-life, the Exchange offers an average overall savings of 24 percent compared to shopping the competition. Patrons can enjoy Exchange benefits in many ways, with the greatest value being the Exchange pledge “we go where you go,” serving troops worldwide.

OUR VISION

To be our customers' first choice.

MILITARY SUPPORT

When military members deploy to remote locations around the world, the Exchange is right there with them, offering products and services to bring Soldiers and Airmen a taste of home. The Exchange also supports deployed troops with programs such as gift cards and “Help Our Troops Call Home.” These programs allow any American to show support for those fighting for freedom by sending gift cards or prepaid phone cards to deployed troops.

eCOMMERCE AND CATALOG

The Exchange is a multi-channel retailer, offering products to authorized customers via retail stores, catalog, online and mobile shopping. More than 18 million items are available through the Exchange Online Store and Exchange Online Mall. The Exchange supports an extremely mobile customer base. The Internet provides the ability to extend the Exchange benefit to patrons worldwide, regardless of where they are located.

SUPPLIER DIVERSITY

The Army and Air Force Exchange Service's policy is to cooperate to the fullest extent with all suppliers and manufacturers while maintaining the highest ethical business standards. The Exchange is a staunch supporter of minority-owned/operated businesses. Quality and price are basic determining factors in all purchasing decisions.

SALES AND DIVIDENDS

Roughly two-thirds of the Exchange's earnings are paid to Army FMWRC and Air Forces Services programs. In the past ten years, the Exchange has contributed more than $2.4 billion to quality-of-life improvements including youth services, Armed Forces Recreation Centers, arts and crafts, aquatic centers, golf courses and more.

Revenues in FY 09 totaled $9.8 billion and earnings totaled more than $428.5 million:

$157.2M to the Army

$89.9M to the Air Force

$13.9M to the Marine Corps

$0.6M to the Navy

For 2009, the Exchange paid a per capita dividend of $279 for every Soldier and Airman.

In addition to funding morale and services programs, Exchange earnings also go to build new stores or renovate existing facilities. Construction funds to build these new or replacement facilities come entirely from the sale of merchandise and services.

FACILITIES WORLDWIDE

The Exchange is responsible for more than 3,100 facilities worldwide in more than 30 countries, five U.S. territories and 50 states. The Exchange operates 162 main stores and more than 2,000 fast food restaurants, such as Taco Bell, Burger King and Cinnabon. The Exchange also provides military communities with convenience, specialty stores and movie theaters on installations worldwide, plus locations in Operations Enduring Freedom (Afghanistan) and New Dawn (Iraq). Visiting the Army & Air Force Exchange Service

1-1. The Army & Air Force Exchange Service negotiates only with authorized individuals and awards contracts only to eligible persons and firms. To conduct business, you must have some identification that establishes your authority to represent a principal. If you are an employee of a manufacturer, you should have a business card, badge, I.D. card, or authorization letter on company letterhead. If you are a manufacturer's representative, either self-employed or employed by a firm, you must have a current letter of authorization from each manufacturer you represent authorizing you to conduct business on their behalf. A current letter is one dated within the last 12 months.

1-2. When visiting the Exchange, you must also have a registration number, obtained by completing Form 3900-056, Notice of Appearance Before Exchange Activity. Unless a correction is necessary, once a registration number is assigned, it's permanent and can be used on all visits. The reverse side of the form includes a statement of Exchange policy on gratuities, references to pertinent Army and Air Force regulations, and brief summaries of applicable statutes. One form that must be filled out on every visit is Form 3900-058, Visitor's Registration.

Store Visitation Policy

1-3. The Exchange encourages vendor participation in our facilities. Vendor participation support includes, but is not limited to, building promotional displays, product inventory scans, recommended order preparation, Associate training, and product demonstrations. Vendors are either permanently assigned to a facility or they provide facility support on an as-needed basis.

1-4. Permanently assigned vendors are normally issued a yearly gate pass that allows them unlimited access to military installations for purposes of working in our facilities. The gate pass will be issued only after a vendor has completed the necessary installation access paperwork, as determined by the local command.

1-5. Vendors supporting our stores on an as-needed basis will be required to initially contact the local General Manager (GM), or his/her designated representative, in writing to request installation entry. If the request is approved, a letter of temporary authorization will be issued/signed by the GM listing the facility(ies) they may visit and an expiration date. The pass length is determined by the installation. Established sign-in, control, and sign-out procedures will be followed at all times, as determined by the local command. If a vendors' request is denied, they will be furnished reasons in writing.

1-6. These procedures apply to all CONUS visitations and U.S. vendors desiring to visit our overseas facilities.

Gifts and Gratuities

1-7. Government personnel are prohibited from accepting a gift, gratuity, or anything of monetary value from any person or firm doing, or seeking to do, business with the Government.

1-8. Acceptance of a gift or gratuity subjects Exchange employees to disciplinary action that includes separation, civil suit for recovery of the value of the gift or gratuity, and criminal prosecution.

1-9. The offering or giving of a gift or gratuity by an individual or firm (or its employees or agents) could lead to serious consequences including termination of contracts, determination of non-responsibility for award of contracts, suspension/debarment, civil suit for recovery of the value of the gift or gratuity, and/or other damages and criminal prosecution.

1-10. We ask your support of this important policy. Should you become aware of any indication or evidence of violation of this policy, please report it in writing to:

The Commander, Army and Air Force Exchange Service
P.O. Box 660202
Dallas, TX 75266-0202

or by telephoning the Exchange HOTLINE: 1-800-527-6789.

Minority and Small Business Program

1-11. Exchange procurement personnel promote the development of minority business enterprise to the extent that such action is consistent with the Exchange mission and that such procurement is done in the 50 states, Puerto Rico, and Guam. Selling to the Exchange

2-1. The Exchange purchases retail merchandise, supplies, equipment, and services from a variety of markets. These purchases involve many forms of purchasing and item selection. Although purchases may be made from other governmental sources, most of our purchases are made directly from private businesses. We make competitive purchases through the negotiated method (as opposed to the formal advertising method used in some appropriated fund acquisitions) on the basis of full and free competition to the extent practicable. Any reputable firm or individual may apply to sell its product or services to the Exchange and will be given fair and impartial consideration.

a. Avoid sending any unsolicited samples of merchandise or products to the Exchange. If any samples are required for product evaluation purposes, you will be specifically requested to provide them.

b. Send us your product brochures or other descriptive literature which portrays the merchandise or products you are interested in selling.

2-2. The Exchange receives numerous requests throughout the year for contract information. The Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) allows the public access to government records. If you submit a proposal to the Exchange that has proprietary information, that information should be flagged as proprietary. In addition, you should supply proper documentation as to why the data should not be released under FOIA exemptions.

2-3. All vendors must comply with the Exchange purchase order/contractual agreements and retail business agreements. Vendors will be charged liquidated damages for noncompliance.

2-4. The sale of some categories of retail merchandise is limited within CONUS by the Armed Services Exchange Regulations approved by the U.S. Congress. The list of items, authorized for CONUS sale as of the date of publication, is on page 13. There are no limitations on retail merchandise sold in overseas exchanges.

2-5. Since the Exchange is a retailing organization serving the needs of the military community and retail business agreements, we select items for resale on the basis of a product's demonstrated customer acceptance in the commercial marketplace. Due to space and investment limitations, we avoid being a test market for new and unproven products.

Exchange Guidelines to Quality Assurance

3-1. The Exchange Quality Assurance Program ascertains the quality of items we buy and sell. We test and evaluate many items before and after purchase. We also visually inspect merchandise at suppliers' plants and our warehouses using random sampling techniques. Our aim is to keep poor quality merchandise out of our stores.

3-2. Most food items bought by the Exchange must be processed in plants approved by the DoD using either their own inspection, or in certain cases, other federal inspection services. Some items are exempt because of their low potential for disease transmission. The Office of the Staff Veterinarian or the food buyer can tell you if source approvals are unnecessary. Delivery of food items directly to exchanges requires an inspection by the resident military food inspection unit for terms of the contract, wholesomeness, condition, identity, and sanitation of the vehicle.

3-3. The Exchange is determined to be a proactive partner to the community we serve and to the suppliers whose merchandise and services we offer. Suppliers should be environmentally responsible, offering products and packaging which create a minimum of hazardous waste, are made from recycled products, or can be reused or recycled themselves, are energy efficient, enhance the environment, and whose claims can be verified.

3-4. Laboratory testing and technical evaluations are performed on a wide range of merchandise. Items are tested, analyzed, and evaluated under various conditions to see how well they will perform under actual use. Such characteristics as colorfastness, shrinkage, elongation, permanent press, strength, electrical performance, and safety factors are checked.

3-5. We use sampling plans derived from the American National Standards Institute (ANSI)/ASQCZ1.4, "Sampling Procedures and Tables for Inspection by Attributes," for visual inspection of merchandise. This standard is approved by the DoD and is widely used and accepted throughout industry. Ordinarily, we inspect items using normal sampling plans. We use tightened inspection for reinspection of a previously failed lot and when a supplier's quality indicates that a higher than normal risk of substandard quality may be offered. The Acceptable Quality Levels (AQLs) we use, in conjunction with ANSI/ASQCZ1.4 sampling plans, define the maximum percentage of defective product the Exchange will accept before rejecting a shipment. AQLs vary by product and price line.

3-6. It's each supplier's responsibility to ensure the quality of their merchandise by establishing an effective statistical in-process quality control system including end item testing/inspection. We accept quality merchandise only. We can and do verify product quality at suppliers' plants, at Exchange warehouses, and in our stores. We inspect as a discriminating customer would. Each sample is examined for defects adversely affecting appearance, serviceability, or customer acceptance. Examples of defects are:

a. Softline Merchandise - Open seams, exposed raw edges, spots, or stains and material defects such as slubs, floats, shade bars, knots, holes, or badly shaded parts.

b. Hardline Merchandise - Mechanical or electrical malfunction or misalignment; dents, scratches, rust, poor finish; loose, missing, or damaged hardware; distorted audio or video; loose electrical connections; and safety-related defects, such as sharp edges, ingestible components, or other hazardous conditions.

3-7. In addition to quality defects, noncompliance with A095041, Terms and Conditions \(for Expense, Supplies, and Equipment Purchased by the Exchange\), or applicable Federal laws or acts can cause an item to be unacceptable, such as:

a. Missing or incorrect Underwriter's Laboratories (UL) or equivalent labels, size labels, textile care labels, fiber content labels, manufacturer's or brand labels, military uniform certification labels, flame-resistant identification, and so forth.

b. Missing or improper pre-ticketing or universal product code (UPC). The Exchange requires authentic GS1 bar codes that meet GS1 specifications for labeling and readability. For more information on GS1 bar codes, please visit www.gs1us.org.

c. Unauthorized substitutions or variations in ordered quantity.

d. Not packed or packaged as required by law, contract, or good packaging practices; for example, non child-resistant caps, non tamper-resistant/safety-sealed vitamins, non leak proof packages, or insufficient inner packaging to prevent rattling and damage to contents.

3-8. Supplier liability for supplying defective or nonconforming items is explained in detail in the Army & Air Force Exchange Service Retail Agreement applicable to contracts and purchase orders.

3-9. As part of the Army & Air Force Exchange Service Retail Agreement, suppliers are required to maintain and have an acceptable Quality Control or Quality Assurance (QC/QA) program in place. At minimum, suppliers must have products tested for safety and performance in addition to performing self end-item inspections prior to shipping products to the Exchange.

3-10. The Exchange QA Management Team manages the aforementioned major programs and several others. They are designed to protect our customers, company assets and to only allow first quality merchandise into the Exchange supply chain. Program details can be found on the Exchange website at: <http://www.shopmyexchange.com/DoingBusiness/QualityAssurance/>. If suppliers still have questions after reading the information provided on the Exchange website, the QA Team can be contacted using any of the following methods.

Logistics

5-1. Exchange LG is comprised of a network of facilities and operations designed to move merchandise from the manufacturer to Exchange facilities worldwide, while maintaining a high service level at minimal costs. This network consists of one transportation center, four DCs, and six commercial consolidation centers (CCCs) located within CONUS; and six regional DCs, of which two are located in Europe, three in the Pacific, and one in Hawaii.

5-2. The Dan Daniel DC (DDDC), located in Newport News, Virginia, is a 1.4 million square foot mechanized facility distributing general merchandise to facilities located throughout the Northeast and Europe. In addition, the DDDC houses the new mechanized Fashion Distribution Facility (FDF) providing women’s, men’s, and children’s clothing as well as shoes and other accessories to Exchange sites around the world.

5-3. The Southeast DC (SEDC), located in Morrow, Georgia is a 292,000 square foot facility opened after the Atlanta DC closure, February 2011. It supports retail facilities worldwide providing sales promotional merchandise, fine furniture and disaster relief supplies.

5-4. The West Coast DC (WDCD) - This fully mechanized state-of-the-art distribution center is located at French Camp, just outside Lathrop, California at the Sharpe Army Depot. The 850,000 square foot facility serves retail facilities throughout the Western United States, Pacific, Alaska, and Hawaii.

5-5. The Waco DC (WADC), located in Waco, Texas, is a 688,000 square foot mechanized facility distributing general merchandise to exchanges east of the Rocky Mountains and west of the Mississippi.

How Merchandise is Distributed

5-6. The Exchange performs an economic analysis on every item purchased to determine the best way the merchandise should be shipped to our facilities. Factors considered in the analysis are the supplier’s free on board (FOB) terms, the type of service needed, the nature of the merchandise category, and an evaluation of the economic/operational benefits to the Exchange and our customers.

Transportation

5-7. The Exchange transportation network utilizes a mix of commercial carriers (less-than-truckload, truckload, and inter-modal), consolidation centers, and our private Exchange fleet.

5-8. Commercial carriers submit all rates in tender format and must utilize EDI for billing and shipment status information. LG limits the number of carriers used to a select group based on quality measures, financial strength, and transportation costs. These are often referred to as "Preferred Carriers."

5-9. Vendors may be required to ship direct to a facility, consolidation center, distribution center, or port depending on the service requirements and transportation costs. Routing instructions will be transmitted with the purchase order. If no routing instructions are received, call Exchange-LG. The Exchange does not issue a routing guide.

5-10. Once shipments enter the Exchange transportation network, they are tracked through the Exchange system using carrier EDI updates and are completely visible to anyone with access to the Exchange mainframe.
