

Continuing Education Authors and Disclosures<sup>1</sup>

Activity Title: Safeguarding Your Medical Identity

No commercial support was received for this activity.

---

No one in a position to control the content of this activity has anything to disclose. All planners and developers of this activity have signed a disclosure statement indicating that they have no relevant financial interests. This activity was developed without commercial support.

Author(s)/Developer(s)

---

Shantanu Agrawal, M.D.

Shantanu Agrawal is a Board-certified Emergency Medicine physician and Fellow of the American Academy of Emergency Medicine. He is currently the Medical Director of the Center for Program Integrity (CPI) at the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). CPI's mission is to reduce and eliminate waste, abuse, and fraud in Medicare and Medicaid. Prior to joining CMS, Dr. Agrawal worked for McKinsey and Company, where he served primarily provider and payer clients in the public and private sectors. His work focused on improving hospital quality, clinical resource utilization, physician alignment, and performance management. Dr. Agrawal completed his clinical training and education at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania and Cornell University Medical College. He also has a Masters degree from Cambridge University, where his published dissertation focused on U.S. welfare reform during the Clinton administration. Dr. Agrawal continues to work clinically in Washington DC.

As CPI Medical Director Dr. Agrawal has worked extensively with physicians who have had medical identities stolen and assisted in the design of new processes to assist victims of identity theft. Dr. Agrawal has published on this topic in a recent JAMA article [JAMA, 307(5): 459-460].

Disclosure: Shantanu Agrawal, M.D. has disclosed no relevant financial relationships.

Julie Taitsman, M.D., J.D.

Julie Taitsman is the Chief Medical Officer for the Office of Inspector General for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. She has developed expertise in the health care system and oversight of the Medicare and

---

<sup>1</sup> As a continuing education accredited provider, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, requires everyone who is in a position to control the content of an education activity to disclose all relevant financial relationships with any commercial interest; "relevant financial relationships" are defined as financial relationships in any amount, occurring within the past 12 months, including financial relationships of a spouse or life partner that could create a conflict of interest.

Medicaid programs and her knowledge of fraud, waste, and abuse extends to medical identity theft. She previously served as a Senior Counsel in the Industry Guidance Branch of the Office of Counsel to the Inspector General. While at OIG, she was detailed to the Senate Finance Committee to serve as Special Counsel for Health and Science. Prior to joining the Office of Inspector General, she practiced health care law in Washington, DC, focusing on Medicare payment and coverage and regulation of drugs, biologics, and medical devices.

Dr. Taitsman earned a B.A. from Brown University in 1992, an M.D. from Brown University School of Medicine in 1996, and a J.D. from Harvard Law School in 1998. She completed the Preliminary Medicine Residency Program at Carney Hospital in Boston in 1999 and clerked for Judge Constance Baker Motley in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York from 1999 to 2000.

Disclosure: Julie Taitsman, M.D., J.D. has disclosed no relevant financial relationships.