RULES AND RELATED MATTERS

NOTIFICATION OF THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A NEW PRIVACY ACT SYSTEM OF RECORDS

The Commission is establishing three systems of records: Ridesharing System (SEC-44), Public Transportation Subsidy Program (SEC-45), and Identification Cards, Press Passes, and Proximity Access Control Cards (SEC-46). SEC-44 is being established to administer the SEC's ridesharing program for those employees who participate in a vanpool or carpool. This system allows employees to apply for equitable parking based on established criteria. The SEC is establishing SEC-45 to administer its subsidy program for those employees who use public transportation. Finally, the SEC is establishing SEC-46 to administer its identification program for those SEC employees, members of the press, contractors, and consultants, who require access to SEC facilities. Since information about individuals may be retrieved from these systems, the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, requires publication of a general notice of their existence. These new systems will take effect 40 days after publication in the Federal Register, unless the SEC receives comments which would result in a contrary determination. ENFORCEMENT PROCEEDINGS

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDING INSTITUTED AGAINST MY DANG

The Commission issued an Order instituting a public administrative proceeding pursuant to Sections 15(b)(6) and 19(h) of the Exchange Act against My Dang (Dang), a former investment banking associate at Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette, Inc. (DLJ). Dang simultaneously consented to the entry of an order barring him from association with any broker, dealer, municipal securities dealer, investment adviser or investment company, with the right to reapply after three years.

The administrative proceeding was based on the entry of a judgment of permanent injunction against Dang for violations of the antifraud provisions of the Securities Act and Exchange Act. The complaint alleged that between April and June 1995, Dang traded in the securities of two DLJ clients, Capital Gaming International, Inc. (Capital Gaming) and Super Rite Corporation (Super Rite), while in possession of material nonpublic information. The complaint alleged that Dang sold short a total of 32,400 shares of Capital Gaming common stock prior to adverse announcements concerning operations at the company's New Orleans riverboat facility. Dang also purchased 13,000 shares of Super Rite common stock prior to a public announcement that the company had agreed to merge with Richfood Holdings, Inc. The complaint alleged that Dang realized a profit of $59,765.27 as a result of his illegal trades.

Concurrent with the filing of the complaint, Dang settled the civil action without admitting or denying the allegations above. Under the terms of the settlement, Dang agreed to the imposition of a permanent injunction forbidding future violations of the antifraud provisions of the federal securities laws. Dang additionally agreed to disgorge $59,765.27 in profits resulting from his insider trading, and pay prejudgment interest thereon in the amount of $11,025.52. Finally, Dang agreed to pay a civil penalty of $59,765.27 (SEC v. My Dang, Civil Action No. 98-4865 DT, JGx, C.D. Cal.). (Rel. 34-40168; File No. 3-9640)

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDINGS AGAINST ERICK GRAY

On July 6, the Commission simultaneously instituted and settled public administrative proceedings against Erick A. Gray, Frank J. Cooney and Gaston E. Oxman (collectively, Respondents), former officers and/or directors of Novatek International, Inc. (Novatek, n/k/a Medical Diagnostic Products, Inc.). The Commission's Orders Instituting Proceedings found that: a) Gray, a former Novatek director, had violated the antifraud provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Exchange Act) by causing Novatek to issue a false and misleading press release concerning the status of a purported contract; b) Cooney, a former Novatek president, had violated the reporting provisions of the Exchange Act by causing Novatek to file false and misleading reports with the Commission on Forms 8-K/A and 10-QSB concerning the value of Novatek's assets and the status of certain purported contracts; and c) Oxman, also a former Novatek president, had violated the reporting and antifraud provisions of the Exchange Act by causing Novatek to file a false and misleading report with the Commission on Form 10-QSB and issue false and misleading press releases concerning the status of purported contracts.

The Commission ordered Gray to cease and desist from committing or causing violations of Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 thereunder; Cooney to cease and desist from committing or causing violations of Section 13(a) of the Exchange Act and Rules 12b-20 and 13a-13 thereunder; and Oxman to cease and desist from committing or causing violations of Sections 10(b) and 13(a) of the Exchange Act and Rules 10b-5, 12b-20 and 13a-13 thereunder. (Rel. 34-40169; File No. 3-9641)

INSIDER TRADING COMPLAINT FILED AGAINST FRANK PAPSON

On July 6, the Commission filed a civil insider trading case in the Southern District of New York against Frank J. Papson, a former vice president of Xerox Corporation's (Xerox) Office Document Products Group (ODPG). Simultaneously with the filing of the complaint, Papson consented to the entry of a Final Judgment on a neither admit nor deny basis, which imposes an injunction against future violations of the antifraud provisions of the federal securities laws and requires Papson to disgorge $35,593.98, representing the profits he made by trading in Xerox stock and options while in possession of material non-public information. The agreed Final Judgment also orders Papson to pay prejudgment interest of $4,493.62 and a civil penalty of $35,593.98.

According to the complaint, Papson was responsible for consolidating and reporting ODPG's financial results, which historically produced approximately 50 percent of Xerox's total revenue. The complaint alleged that on or about October 7, 1996, Papson learned that ODPG's total profit for the 1996 third quarter was down $59 million or thirty-four percent below the same year-ago period and that, with this knowledge, he sold short 1650 shares of Xerox common stock and purchased 65 Xerox put options between October 7 and October 15.

On October 18, 1996, Xerox publicly announced a two percent decline in its 1996 third quarter earnings from the 1995 third quarter. According to the complaint, the 1996 third quarter results were well below analysts' expectations for Xerox, which had previously posted increased earnings for 12 preceding quarters. After the disappointing earnings announcement, the price of Xerox stock dropped $8.25, or fourteen percent, and Papson covered his short sale of Xerox stock and sold his Xerox put options for a profit of $35,593.98. DOUGLAS ROY SENTENCED TO SIX MONTHS HOME DETENTION

On June 29, 1998, Judge Gary L. Taylor, United States District Court for the Central District of California, Southern Division, sentenced Douglas A. Roy (Roy) to serve six months home detention, three years probation, and pay $31,000 in restitution. From August 1993 through September 1995, Roy was the controller of Home Theater Products International, Inc. (HTPI). On September 15, 1997, Roy pleaded guilty to an information filed by the United States Attorney for the Central District of California charging him with conspiracy to commit securities fraud by fraudulently inflating HTPI's accounts receivable (U.S. v. Douglas Andrew Roy, SA CR 97-61-GLT).

In a related civil action by the Commission, on June 3, 1998, the District Court enjoined Roy from future violations of the antifraud, insider trading, books and records and false statement to an auditor provisions of the federal securities laws in connection with his activities as controller of HTPI and its predecessor, Home Theater Products, Inc. [SEC v. Paul R. Safronchik, Jerome A. Adamo, and Douglas A. Roy, Civil Action No. SACV 98-416-GLT, EEx, C.D.Cal., S.

FINAL JUDGMENT ENTERED AGAINST TRACY STODDART

On June 12, 1998, the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York entered a Final Judgment as to Tracy Ann Stoddart, the last of seven defendants in this case involving insider trading in advance of The Thomson Corporation's (Thomson's) November 16, 1994 tender offer for The MEDSTAT Group, Inc. (Medstat). According to the Commission's complaint, Stoddart, 36, a certified public accountant residing in Santa Fe, New Mexico, was tipped by Andrew S. Lane, 34, who learned of Thomson's plans to acquire Medstat while working as Director of Finance at a Thomson subsidiary. According to the complaint, Stoddart bought a total of 1906 shares of Medstat for herself, 700 of which she sold before the tender offer announcement, and also recommended Medstat to a family member who bought 235 shares.

Stoddart consented to the entry of the final judgment against her without admitting or denying the allegations in the complaint. Stoddart consented to an injunction against future violations of Sections 10(b) and 14(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rules 10b-5 and 14e-3 thereunder, and agreed to disgorge $14,600.98, representing her and her family member's gains from the conduct alleged in the complaint, plus pre-judgment interest thereon in the amount of $4,897.58. However, payment of that amount was waived in light of her demonstrated inability to pay based on her sworn representations in a statement of financial condition. [SEC v. Andrew S. Lane, Jack Lane, Jack O. Scher, Deborah S. Games, Craig L. Sampson, Bruce Sampson and Tracy Ann Stoddart, USDC, SDNY, Civil Action No. 97 Civ. 8144] (LR-15801)
