National Network of Libraries of Medicine

Your library or organization is invited to join with health science libraries in our mutual goal:

to provide the best health information to the public.

Network membership can offer opportunities to:

1. Build relationships with health science librarians and medical library experts in your own community and state, and around the whole country.
2. Access interlibrary loan services, systems, and products utilized by U.S. health science libraries.
3. Be considered for funding for creative consumer health outreach projects.

Membership is FREE!
