COMMISSION ANNOUNCEMENTS

DIVISION OF CORPORATION FINANCE PROMOTES SIX STAFF MEMBERS TO SENIOR POSITIONS

The Commission's Division of Corporation Finance today promoted six current staff members to senior positions, including Chief Counsel, Chief of the Office of Rulemaking, Assistant Director (Disclosure Operations), and Senior Special Counsel (Disclosure Operations).

Division of Corporation Finance Director David B.H. Martin said, "These talented individuals were selected from an exceptional pool of applicants. Each reflects the depth of expertise and commitment that forms the bedrock of our Division. As a group they will bring great strength and stability to our management team."

Paula Dubberly, Chief Counsel: Ms. Dubberly succeeds Catherine Dixon as Chief Counsel. She will be responsible for managing the operation of the Office of Chief Counsel and overseeing the interpretation and application of the federal securities laws to the Division's full disclosure program. From 1989 to 1992, Ms. Dubberly was associated with the law firm of Jones, Day Reavis & Pogue in Cleveland, Ohio. She joined the Division in 1992 as an Attorney Advisor and in 1993 was promoted to the role of Special Counsel. From 1995 to 1996 she served as the Assistant Director in charge of the office that reviewed filings by selected industries, including asset backed securities and investment banks. From 1996 to the present, she has served as the Assistant Director in charge of the Division's Office of Real Estate and Business Services. Ms. Dubberly graduated in 1989 from American University, Washington College of Law where she was an editor of The American University Law Review. She graduated in 1983 with a B.A. from George Washington University.

Elizabeth M. Murphy, Chief of the Office of Rulemaking: In this newly created position, Ms. Murphy will manage the office that is responsible for preparing rules and interpretive guidance on behalf of the Division. Ms. Murphy joined the Division in 1986 as an Attorney Advisor and in 1987 was promoted to the position of Special Counsel. In 1996 she was made a Special Counsel in the Office of the Chief Counsel. Since January 2000 she has served as Counsel to Commissioner Laura S. Unger. Ms. Murphy received her law degree from the University of Notre Dame Law School in 1985. She graduated in 1982 with a B.S. from the University of Virginia.

Karen J. Garnett, Assistant Director (Disclosure Operations): Ms. Garnett succeeds Paula Dubberly as the Assistant Director in charge of the Division's Office of Real Estate and Business Services. From 1990 to 1994 Ms. Garnett was associated with the Little Rock, Arkansas law firm of Wright, Lindsey & Jennings. She joined the Commission in 1994 as an Attorney Advisor in the Division of Investment Management. Ms. Garnett joined the Division of Corporation Finance in 1995 as an Attorney Advisor. From 1998 to the present she has served as Special Counsel in the Division's Office of Consumer Products and Utilities. Ms. Garnett graduated in 1990 from the University of Texas School of Law. She received her B.A. in 1986 from Dartmouth University.

Barbara C. Jacobs, Assistant Director (Disclosure Operations): Ms. Jacobs succeeds James Daly as the Assistant Director in charge of the Office of Computers and Online Services. Ms. Jacobs joined the Division in 1986 as an Attorney Advisor and was promoted to the role of Special Counsel in the Office of Disclosure Policy in 1989. In 1993 she became the Deputy Chief of the Office of Disclosure Policy. From 1996 to the present she has served as the Deputy Chief of the Office of Small Business. Ms. Jacobs received an LLM in Securities Law from Georgetown University Law Center in 1992. She received her law degree from the University of San Francisco School of Law in 1986. Ms. Jacobs graduated in 1983 from the University of California at Berkeley with an A.B. in Economics.

Max A. Webb, Assistant Director (Disclosure Operations): Mr. Webb succeeds William Tolbert as the Assistant Director in charge of the Office of Transportation and Leisure. From 1984 to 1994, Mr. Webb worked with various law firms and as the general counsel of a public corporation. He joined the Division in 1994 as an Attorney Advisor. From 1998 to the present he has served as Special Counsel in the Office of Transportation and Leisure. Mr. Webb received his law degree in 1984 from Yale Law School. He received a Ph. D. in 1972 from Princeton University. Mr. Webb graduated in 1968 with a B.A. from Rice University.

James R. Budge, Senior Special Counsel (Disclosure Operations): In this newly created position, Mr. Budge will act as a senior legal advisor to all of Disclosure Operations and will work closely with Associate Directors Shelley Parratt, William Tolbert, and James Daly, who manage Disclosure Operations. Mr. Budge joined the Commission in 1987 as an attorney in the Division of Market Regulation. In 1990, he joined the Corporation Finance Division as a Special Counsel in the Office of Disclosure Policy. From 1996 to the present, Mr. Budge has served as Special Counsel in the Office of Small Business. Mr. Budge received his law degree in 1985 and his B.A. in 1982 from Brigham Young University. (Press Rel. 2000-149)

ENFORCEMENT PROCEEDINGS

CIVIL COMPLAINT FILED AGAINST IRWIN, COOPER AND BURTON FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATES FOR OFFERING FRAUD

On September 29, 2000, the United States Securities and Exchange Commission announced that it filed a complaint against Lawrence B. Irwin (Irwin), an Illinois resident, James D. Cooper, III (Cooper), his business associate, and Burton Financial Management Associates, Inc. (BFMA), an Illinois company owned by Irwin, alleging violations of the antifraud and registration provisions of the federal securities laws. The Commission is seeking a permanent injunction against all Defendants, and disgorgement of ill-gotten gains plus prejudgment interest and civil penalties from Irwin and BFMA.

The Commission's complaint alleges that Defendants made misrepresentations and omissions of material fact to investors in the offer and sale of unregistered promissory notes and certain real estate limited partnerships issued by BFMA. The complaint alleges that contrary to Defendants' representations that the proceeds of these securities offerings would be used for real estate purchases or related investments, Irwin deposited and commingled offering proceeds in BFMA's general operating account, which he used to make purported "loans" to himself of at least $1.5 million, to his wife's business of at least $1.3 million, to repay other BFMA Noteholders, and to make distributions to investors in other BFMA Limited Partnerships. The complaint further alleges that Cooper engaged in another scheme to defraud whereby he misappropriated approximately $2.3 million from approximately 15 investors for his personal use by, among other things, falsely representing that he would invest these funds in securities. [SEC v. Lawrence B. Irwin, James D. Cooper, III and Burton Financial Management Associates, Inc., N.D. Ill., Civil Action No. 00 C 5996] (LR-16740)

PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION ENTERED AGAINST TUTORNET.COM GROUP, INC. AND EUBURN R.A. FORDE

On September 29, 2000, the Honorable Leonie M. Brinkema entered an Order of Preliminary Injunction and Other Relief against defendants Tutor.net Group, Inc., (Tutor.net) and Euburn R. A. Forde (Forde), Tutor.net's president. The Order was entered following a hearing in United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia. Among other things, the Order preliminarily enjoins Tutor.net and Forde from violating Section 17(a) of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Exchange Act) and Rule 10b-5 thereunder; preliminarily enjoins Tutor.net from violating Section 13(a) of the Exchange Act and Rules 12b-20, 13a-11 and 13a-13 thereunder; and preliminarily enjoins Forde from aiding and abetting violations of Section 13(a) of the Exchange Act and Rules 12b-20, 13a-11 and 13a-13 thereunder. The Order also sets October 10, 2000 as the date for the hearing on the Commission's request for the entry of a permanent injunction and the imposition of civil penalties against Tutor.net and Forde.

On August 29, 2000 the Commission filed an injunctive action against Tutornet and Forde. The Commission's complaint alleges that Tutornet and Forde made false and misleading statements, and omitted to state material information, in a Form 8-K filed with the Commission on May 18, 2000, and in a January 2000 letter to shareholders published on Tutornet's website, in an effort to lull current and prospective investors into a false sense of security in the face of Tutornet's precarious financial condition. The complaint also alleges that Tutornet's Form 10-Q filed with the Commission on August 21, 2000 was deficient because it failed to include a statement of cash flow. [SEC v. Tutornet.com Group, Inc. and Euburn R.A. Forde, Civil Action No. 00-1472-A, USDC, E.D.Va., Alexandria Division] (LR-16742)

SEC CHARGES FORMER EXECUTIVES IN MASSIVE FINANCIAL REPORTING FRAUD AT MCKESSON HBOC

On September 28, 2000, the Commission announced the first charges from its continuing investigation into financial reporting fraud at McKesson HBOC, a Fortune 100 company with headquarters in San Francisco, California. McKesson HBOC was formed by the January 1999 merger of San Francisco-based McKesson Corporation with HBO & Company, an Atlanta, Georgia-based vendor of healthcare software. The Commission's action charges three people, including the two top officers of HBO & Company, with participating in a long-running fraudulent scheme to inflate the company's revenue and net income. In a separate action, the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Northern District of California also filed criminal charges against two of the officers.

According to the Commission's complaint, the fraud began at HBO & Company in 1997 and continued in successive quarters through the March 1999 quarter, which was the first combined reporting period for McKesson HBOC. The defendants' fraud enabled HBO & Company to report falsely in press releases and in periodic reports filed with the Commission that the company was having an unbroken run of financial success and that HBO & Company had continually exceeded analysts' quarterly earnings expectations. However, when McKesson HBOC announced in April 1999 that the company was conducting an internal investigation into financial reporting irregularities, its shares tumbled from approximately $65 to $34, a drop that slashed the company's market value by more than $9 billion.

The Commission's complaint charges that two former top executives of HBO & Company, Jay P. Gilbertson and Albert J. Bergonzi, were the architects of this fraudulent scheme to "cook the books." While carrying out this scheme, defendants unjustly enriched themselves with lucrative bonuses tied to the company's financial performance, as well as sales of HBO & Company stock at prices inflated by their fraud. Gilbertson and Bergonzi were HBO & Company's Co-Presidents and Co-Chief Operating Officers, and Gilbertson was also HBO & Company's Chief Financial Officer until he left the company in November 1998. Following the January 1999 merger, Bergonzi was an Executive Vice President of McKesson HBOC, and remained President of the HBO & Company division of the combined company until June 1999.

The Commission's complaint also names as a defendant Dominick A. DeRosa, who was Vice President of Enterprise Sales of HBO & Company until September 1998. The complaint alleges that Bergonzi, Gilbertson, and DeRosa repeatedly took active steps to perpetuate the fraud and conceal their actions from the public, including:

- Concealing contingencies related to software sales contracts in "side letters," which were hidden from HBO & Company's accounting staff responsible for revenue recognition. These side letter contingencies included such terms as rights to cancel, and even provided in some cases for continuing negotiations of the contract. Under generally accepted accounting principles, software sales contracts cannot be recorded as revenue until such contingencies are resolved.
- Fraudulently accounting for quarter- and year-end revenue by routinely backdating contracts so they fell within the prior quarter.
- Making fraudulent journal entries designed to understate expenses and inflate HBO & Company's net income.
- Swapping product with other companies and creating misleading documentation in order to generate fraudulent software sales revenue.

As a result of the fraud, the financial statements of HBO & Company, and later McKesson HBOC, were materially false and misleading during at least the period January 1998 through April 1999. The Commission's complaint alleges that the defendants violated the antifraud, internal controls, and books and records provisions of the federal securities laws, and also alleges that Gilbertson violated the rule against lying to auditors (Section 17(a) of the Securities Act of 1933, and Sections 10(b) and 13(b)(5) of the Exchange Act of 1934 and Rules 13b2-1 and 13b2-2 thereunder). The complaint also alleges that each of the defendants was unjustly enriched through significant bonuses tied to meeting earnings expectations, or through sales of HBO & Company stock while the price was inflated due to their fraud, and seeks to compel disgorgement of these sums. The complaint further seeks to suspend or bar the defendants from serving as officers or directors of public companies.

Simultaneous with the filing of the Commission's civil complaint, DeRosa consented, without admitting or denying the allegations in the Commission's complaint, to the entry of a permanent injunction against all of the alleged violations. He agreed to disgorge $361,528.80 in ill-gotten gains (including interest) and to pay a civil penalty of $50,000. DeRosa also agreed to be barred for five years from serving as an officer or director of a public company.

In a separate action, the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Northern District of California announced criminal charges against Gilbertson and Bergonzi for their roles in the fraud. [SEC v. Jay Gilbertson, Albert Bergonzi and Dominick Derosa, USDC, NDCA, Civil Action No. C-00-3570, WHA] (LR-16743; AAE Rel. 1329)
