JANICE DUNN LEE APPOINTED DEPUTY DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE OECD/NEA; MARGARET DOANE APPOINTED OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS DIRECTOR

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission announced the appointment of Janice Dunn Lee as the Deputy Director General of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development/Nuclear Energy Agency (OECD/NEA) in Paris. Margaret M. Doane become the Director of NRC's Office of International Programs position in mid-July upon Dunn Lee's departure.

"Ms. Dunn Lee's appointment," said Chairman Dale Klein, "will greatly enhance NRC's relationship with the OECD/NEA and confirms our commitment for cooperation with the international nuclear regulatory community."

Dunn Lee began her federal career in 1975 as an intern with the NRC and has held a number of progressively responsible positions in the international field. She served as Special Assistant for International Policy to former Chairmen Lando Zech, Kenneth Carr, Ivan Selin, and Shirley Ann Jackson. Since 1999, she has served as the Director of the Office of International Programs.

Dunn Lee received her Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology from the University of California at Berkeley and a Master of Arts degree in International Relations from The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University.

The OECD is an intergovernmental organization of industrialized countries based in Paris, France. Through the NEA it assists member nations in maintaining and further developing, through international cooperation, the scientific, technological and legal bases required for the safe, environmentally friendly and economical use of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes.

"I am looking forward to contributing to the critical role that the NEA will have in enhancing safe nuclear power during the potential nuclear renaissance gathering speed around the world," said Dunn Lee.

Upon Dunn Lee's departure, Doane will become Director of the Office of International Programs. She has served as the Deputy Director of that office since 2004.

Doane began her career at the NRC in 1991 as a Special Assistant in the Office of the Secretary and then served as an attorney in the Office of Commission Appellate Adjudication through 1998. She then served as Commissioner Jeffrey S. Merrifield's Legal Counsel and Chief of Staff from 1998 to 2004. Before joining the NRC, Doane served for three years as an attorney advisor for the Department of Veterans Affairs, Board of Veterans Appeals.

Doane received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from Loyola College in Baltimore and law degree from the University of Maryland.
