COMPLAINT COUNSEL'S EXPERT WITNESS LIST

Pursuant to the Scheduling Order issued May 13, 2004 in this proceeding ("Scheduling Order"), Complaint Counsel hereby designate those persons whom we currently contemplate calling to present expert testimony at the hearing in this matter.

1. John R. Morris, PhD
Principal
Economists, Inc.
1200 New Hampshire Avenue, N.W., Suite 400
Washington, D.C. 20036

Dr. Morris' anticipated testimony will be described in his expert report, which will be produced to Defendants by the date set forth in the Scheduling Order. The general subject matter of this testimony includes, but is not limited to, economic issues related to the supply, price, transportation, and use of Wyoming's Southern Powder River Basin ("SPRB") coal and other coals, and alternative fuels, competition in the various markets for SPRB coal, and the potential effects of Arch Coal Inc.'s ("Arch") acquisition of Triton Coal Company, LLC ("Triton").

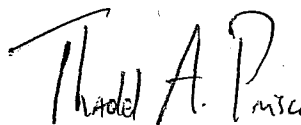

2. David Painter
Director
LECG, LLC
1725 Eye Street, N.W., Suite 800
Washington, D.C. 20006

Mr. Painter's anticipated testimony will be described in his expert report, which will be produced to Defendants by the date set forth in the Scheduling Order. The general subject matter of this testimony includes, but is not limited to, economic and financial issues related to Triton's financial condition and its access to capital, and any claimed efficiencies associated with Arch's acquisition of Triton.

3. Judah L. Rose
Senior Vice President
ICF Consulting, ICF Resources, Inc.
9300 Lee Highway
Fairfax, VA 22031

Mr. Rose's anticipated testimony will be described in his expert report, which will be produced to Defendants by the date set forth in the Scheduling Order. The general subject matter of this testimony includes, but is not limited to, economic issues related to the supply, price, transportation, and use of SPRB coal and other coals, and alternative fuels, competition in the various markets for SPRB coal, and the potential effects of Arch's acquisition of Triton.

Respectfully submitted,
