ACHP Advanced Seminar:

Reaching Successful Outcomes in Section 106 Review

8:30 am

Introduction

Principles of the Section 106 Process

Section 106 is based on five fundamental principles. This unit will revisit the basic structure for decision-making under the regulations and will include an exercise to test your knowledge of 36 CFR Part 800.

Effective Problem Solving Through Consultation

Good management of the consultation process encourages agreement and contributes to successful outcomes. How do you achieve that in complex or controversial cases? What are the warning signs of trouble, and how can you avoid them? Includes an exercise highlighting communication with consulting parties.

Exercise: Developing a Consultation Protocol

Determining Appropriate Solutions Under Section 106

How can adverse effects be resolved in the public interest? This unit explores standard and alternative approaches to mitigation and invites participants to share best practices from their states.

Preparing Effective Agreements Under Section 106

The conclusion of consultation is only as successful as the agreement document that records it. Learn how to craft better MOAs and PAs through an agreement preparation checklist and spot common problems in stipulations.
