

Legal Theoretical and Applied Perspectives in Operationalizing Biomass Sustainability Standards

Jody M. Endres, J.D., M.A.
Senior Regulatory Associate

Jody M. Endres, J.D., M.A, Senior Regulatory Associate at the Energy Biosciences Institute, is a published author in the nation's top law journals in the field of food, agricultural and environmental law, and currently serves on the Council for Sustainable Biomass Production Board of Directors, the Energy Biosciences Institute's Executive Committee, and co-chairs the Leonardo Academy Sustainable Agriculture Standard environmental subcommittee. She presented "Legal Theoretical and Applied Perspectives in Operationalizing Biomass Sustainability Standards" sharing her vast knowledge and experience with a highly engaged audience at the CBES June Forum. Please feel free to contact her at jendres2@illinois.edu for more information regarding her presentation.